District Nursing Ass'n In Meeting

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Irving Fisher, the annual meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association was held at her home on Chestnut st., West Newton. Presiding was Mrs. John F. Brown and present were several guests — representatives from the Newton Community Council, the Newton Community Chest, executives from other social agencies in the city, volunteers to the Well-Baby Conferences and executives from other Nursing Associations in our neighboring towns. Of outstanding interest were the reports of the Executive Secretary, Miss Hilg Nelson, and of the various committees of the association, all marking the highlights of the fine progress this agency has made during the last year. Of particular note was the report given by Mrs. Horatio Rogers, the first Vice-President of the Association. Mrs. Rogers, a Nurses' Aide, has taken a course given by Miss Nelson, instructing those women who are either Nurses' Aides or those who have completed the Red Cross course in Home Nursing, in Volunteer Nursing Service in the Home. Her account presented a picture of the duties of such a volunteer and of the tremendous amount of help to our Public Health Nurses, which these women can give. The state, presented by the chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Stanley Anderson, was duly elected. The officers for the coming year are: Mrs. John F. Brown, president; Mrs. Horatio Rogers, first vice-president; Mrs. Standwood G. Bradlee, second vice-president; Mrs. Matt B. Jones, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Stanley Anderson, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Sheldon Dunlap, secretary; and Mrs. Donald T. Allen, assistant secretary. The directors include: Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, Mrs. Maurice W. Biscoe, Mrs. Willis B. Clough, Miss Gretchen Clifford, Mrs. John T. Croghan, Mrs. David C. Dittmore, Miss Marion H. Dorr, Mrs. W. V. M. Fawcett, Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Mrs. William T. Glidden, Jr., Mrs. Harry N. Guterman, Mrs. Winslow R. Howland, Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson, Mrs. Joseph B. Jameison, Mrs. Matt B. Jones, Mrs. Richard L. Kenney, Mrs. Richard H. Lee, Miss Caroline A. Lovett, Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, Miss Mabel Louise Riley, Mrs. Wallace M. Ross, Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall, Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, Mrs. Rufus Soule, Mrs. Leslie P. Thompson, Mrs. Samuel F. Towler, Mrs. Clinton W. Tylee, Mrs. Quincy W. Wales, Mrs. Philip L. Warren, Mrs. Sidney C. Wiggin, Mrs. Louis J. A. Wilson, Mrs. Steven Bayard Wilson, Mrs. Henry A. Wentworth, Mrs. Worthling L. West and Mrs. George W. Wyman. Honorary Members are Mrs. George M. Angier, Mrs. Howard P. Converse and Mrs. Fred H. Chagnon Given Testimonial

More than 150 druggists and friends attended a Testimonial Dinner of Commissioner Wilfred Chagnon, retiring president of the Boston Association of Retail Druggists, held at the Hotel Statler, Boston, Thursday, Feb. 24, 1944. It was given for his untiring effort building Pharmacy to the highest professional standard.

The occasion was the retirement of Mr. Chagnon as president of the Boston Association of Retail Druggists.
Mr. Wilfred Chagnon was born in Putnam, Connecticut, Oct. 12, 1887. When only a young child his family moved to Webster, Mass., where his father was in the meat business. From early youth Wilfred worked in a drug store in Webster while attending the public schools. When he finished High School he left for New York City to work in Times Square World's Busiest Drug Store while studying Dentistry, after a while changing his plans and returning to the study of Pharmacy.
In March, 1921, he was called to Newton to become a partner with Mr. Mason of the Hubbard Drug Co. After Mr. Mason's death in 1928, Wilfred bought out Mr. Mason's widow's interest. During his first years in Newton, Wilfred met Miss Edna Reynolds connected with the Newton Savings Bank. She became Mrs. Chagnon, a June bride in 1926.

Mr. Chagnon has always been very active in his community and in the state, and he is a member of the following organizations: The Boston Drug Association; second vice-president of the Massachusetts Pharmaceutical Ass'n; National Retail Drug Ass'n; American Pharmaceutical Ass'n; Fellow American College of Apothecaries; Mass. College of Pharmacy Alumni Ass'n; Kappa Psi fraternity; Commissioner, Mass. State Board of Pharmacy; Past 1st Vice-President of the Kiwanis; past officer of the Elks of Newton; Hunnewell Men's Club of Newton; Director of the Newton Chamber of Commerce; Director of Newton Y. M. C. A.; Major of Community Chest Drives; Boston University Club; Past officer of Charlesbank Horse Shoe Club; Past President of Old Tolerance Club of the Elks of Newton; Very active in all activities in the community.

The Hubbard Drug Co., Inc., through Mr. Chagnon's efforts, has the honor of being the only pharmacy in the state to date to have won as much as five prizes for the Pharmacy Week window displays. Have also won several second and third prizes.
During the years between 1928 and 1932 Mr. Chagnon owned a summer resort drug store in Ogunquit, Maine. A city drug store to the sea shore and not a sea shore drug store at that.

Mr. Chagnon has given a great deal of time and energy to association activities, not only in his home city and state, but throughout the nation.

RED CROSS WAR FUND DAY TO BE HELD THIS SUNDAY

CHARLES B. FLOYD, WAR FUND CHAIRMAN, DESIGNATES SUNDAY, MARCH 5, AS NEWTON RED CROSS DAY

This journey overseas can be made simply by staying home next Sunday afternoon and early evening, and waiting for your Red Cross volunteer to call on you for your contribution. Newton Red Cross is asking everyone in the city to save Sunday, Mar. 5th—and save a life!"

THERE ARE SOME WOUNDS NO DRUGS CAN HEAL

When a man gets hit in battle, he gets the best of care. No effort, no expense is spared to save our wounded boys.

But there are some wounds no drugs can heal... the wounds that come from loneliness, from being far from home... the wounds that come from worry, the wound of missing you until his heart breaks and he feels he can't go on. There are no drugs for wounds like these—no drugs except a mother's touch.

And that is where the Red Cross—your Red Cross—comes in. For the Red Cross is still the Greatest Mother in the World. All over this earth, wherever our fighting men go—the Red Cross is with them. Its Clubmobiles stand at desert crossroads. Its rest homes will be found on every front from London to Calcutta. Its packages reach the prisoners of war in far-off camps... get through the barbed wire straight from your hearts... with fine American food, cigarettes and tobacco.

You have given generously before. Of course you will give again. But this year, when the need is greater than ever before... when it's your own sons that are served... this year dig deep and be glad. For wherever he is, the Red Cross is at his side, and the Red Cross is YOU.

Support King For Lt-Governor

Representative George E. Rawson today announced that he is supporting Speaker Rudolph F. King of the House of Representatives.

REP. RUDOLPH F. KING

tives for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

The local Representative said that the Speaker is establishing campaign headquarters at 6 Beacon st. in Boston.

"Rudy King," Representative Rawson said, "is establishing headquarters, but I know that it will be just one place to hang his hat for a few minutes because Rudy is a down-to-earth Republican who rebels at the confinement of four walls and will devote the major portion of his time visiting and talking with people in a community such as ours.

"During his 30 years in public life, Rudy has kept a close contact with the common man which will be more and more apparent to the men and women in Newton who will meet him during the coming weeks."

Representative Rawson said that he and other legislators and friends of Rudy King have already organized to insure King's nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

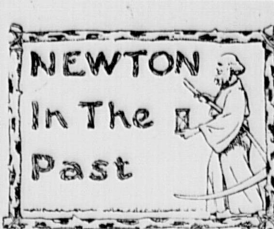

"Rudy will soon be in Newton and I am confident that he will fire Republicans here with the same enthusiasm I have for his personality and ability."

Honorable Rudolph F. King of Millis was elected Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, January 6, 1943. Born November 2, 1887. Educated in the public schools of Millis, and that town has been his home continuously since he was 10 years old. Worked in a grocery store for four years before being employed by the J. M. Herman Shoe Company, where he worked for eighteen years progressively as stock boy, shoe cutter, foreman, and general purchasing agent for their plants in Millis, Hallowell, Maine, and Somersworth, New Hampshire. Later he was superintendent of the Ascutney Shoe Company in Windsor, Vermont.

In 1941 and 1942, he assisted in advising the Russian government in the setting up of specifications for the purchase of shoes now being worn by armies fighting for the United Nations. He is in the leather business and is the General Manager of the Levisur Leather Company at 157 South st., Boston.

Since becoming a member of the House of Representatives in 1937, he served on the committees on Municipal Finance and Ways and Means. In 1941, he was appointed Republican Whip, and in 1942, he succeeded to the post of Majority Floor Leader. He also served as a member of the Legislative Commission for Participation in the New York World's Fair and as House Chairman of the Commission on Congressional Redistricting. Since 1938, he has been House Chairman of the Special Commission authorized to study the railroad transportation facilities of the Commonwealth with regard to the reorganization of the New Haven Railroad and the facilities available to Massachusetts. He is a member of the Special Recess Commission which is studying Rationing and Allied Problems.

In the town of Millis, he served as Moderator for nine years, as chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Chairman of the School Committee, member of the Board of Assessors, Finance Committee and Chairman of Health and Cemetery Commissioners, and is at

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 1, 1889

G. P. Atkins has had a telephone placed in his grocery store (Newton) the past week, and his number is 13-4.

The committee on towns has reported five to four against the annexation of any part of Watertown to Newton.

A new door has been placed in the police station (West Newton) at the main entrance to take the place of the old one worn out in the service. What is needed in Newton is not so much a new door for a poor lock-up, but an appropriation for a substantial police station and court house, entirely separated from the City Hall and provided with proper apartments and accommodations. Then we want the police force enlarged so that the city can be continuously patrolled and to the end that Newton may possess an efficient police service.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 1, 1895

The Newton Free Library passed the one thousand mark, last Saturday, for the first time 1068 books being given out.

The telephone men have been stringing new cables along Washington st., Newton, this week, and their dizzy attitudes have attracted many spectators.

The vote in both precincts here (Newtonville) Tuesday was counted in short order, about ten minutes being required for the work. There were no incidents worth mentioning and the balloting furnished no excitement and awakened but little interest.

The Newton Hospital is at present taxed to its fullest capacity for want of room, and its needs were probably never so fully realized as now. The contagious wards of the institution have now but two cases, those being children with measles.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 7, 1919

Mr. Arthur Hudson, for nearly 43 years, the principal druggist in Newton retired from active business last Saturday. Mr. Hudson has been in business here for many years longer than any other business man in the city and during his long period of service has formed a large number of warm friends, who will miss his genial presence in the "square." Mr. Bernard M. Carroll, who has conducted a drug store on Centre st., Newton, for the past 7 years, and who is one of the live business men of the city, has purchased the business of Mr. Hudson and will continue to maintain the high standard set by him.

present Chairman of the Millis Public Safety Committee. In his younger days, he played semi-professional baseball with the Blackstone Valley and Charles River Valley leagues.

He married Ethel M. Post of Millis in 1914. He has one son, Gordon P. King, who was graduated from Millis High School, from Dartmouth College in 1939, from Tufts College of Business in 1940, and is now a Lieutenant (j.g.) in the U. S. Naval Reserve, assigned to active duty in the Pacific area.

The Speaker is Vice President of the Medway Co-operative Bank and a trustee of the Medway Savings Bank. This year he was elected President of the Norfolk County Selectmen's Association. He is a member of the Republican Club of Massachusetts, the Norfolk County Republican Club, the Norfolk-Middlesex Senatorial District Republican Club, the Canadian Club of Boston, the Vermont Association of Boston, and the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts. He is also a member of the New England Shoe and Leather Association, and has just been appointed by that association as a member of its post-war committee. He is also a member of the Boston Boot and Shoe Club.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

Senator Barkley Strikes

The recent "Dear Alben" episode in Washington is highly significant. Practically every political commentator of any importance has had considerable to say about it. In most cases the comment has been favorable to the Kentucky Senator, although one writer reminded his readers that the Kentuckian had not been above accepting WPA funds, indirectly, to assist him in one of his campaigns. Generally speaking, however, there was a disposition to praise Senator Barkley for having the intestinal fortitude to stand up in his boots and speak his mind to the President. Frankly, it seemed to me that Mr. Roosevelt had said some rather harsh things about Congress in the past few weeks. There had been that very unkind crack about fraud in connection with the soldiers' vote legislation. Long before that we had witnessed his attempt to by-pass Congress for the purpose of limiting civilian salaries to $25,000. Prior to that we had watched his ill-advised attempt to purge Congress of various Senators who declined to do his bidding. Thus, in a variety of ways, the President has made it clear that he did NOT have great respect for the legislative arm of our government.

What will happen now? Has the President's soothing letter to Senator Barkley blotted out this unpleasant episode and resulted in restoring peace and harmony? Not by a long shot. The fundamental sore is still present. No flow of honeyed words, no charming smiles will really close the breach which had been widening for a long time between the executive and legislative branches. Congress has been pushed around so mercilessly for a long, long time and has fallen to such a low estate that it is a good bet that it will continue its present independent course and strive to regain the public's esteem and confidence. The members of that once-powerful organization have good reason to believe that their constituents will endorse the courageous attitude of the Kentucky Senator, who took his political life in his hands when he resigned his post as Majority Leader of the Senate. A year ago, it is difficult to visualize such an incident between our Commander-in-Chief and his Senate leader. Will there be other incidents of a like nature in the coming months?

Finally, it is pertinent to point out that we have just witnessed an event which is of much greater significance than the mere passage or failure of passage of a tax bill. We have witnessed the apparent triumph of a publicist's soul and conscience over routine political expediency. Bear that in mind as you study the behavior of our Congress in the coming crucial months.

Republican Delegates

It has been most secret among the insiders for some weeks past that Carroll L. Means of Boston, Chairman of the Department of Public Utilities, and Philip G. Bowker of Brookline, Associate Commissioner on the Metropolitan District Commission, would announce that they were candidates for election as delegates in the April 25 Presidential Primary to the Republican National Convention. As alternate delegates in this Tenth Congressional district we now have before us the candidacies of Francis C. Gray of Boston, former Chairman of the Boston School Committee, and Arno I. Drew of Boston, Chairman of the Suffolk County Court House Commission.

All four men will run unpledged. All are veterans of World War I and have been faithful and consistent workers for the Republican party, in good times and in bad. They should constitute a strong, intelligent team in Chicago next June. The coming convention may prove of historic importance and it is essential that Massachusetts be represented by men who have a keen and thorough understanding of politics as played by the master-minds of the country.

RED CROSS CLUB IN NORTH AFRICAN DESERT

Leslie R. White, in the American Field Service, made a one-day stopover in a Red Cross Club which had been established in a small town in the heart of the North African Desert, and his appreciation of the friendly service received there is expressed in the following letter written to his mother, Mrs. Frederick White of Newton:

"We stayed here at the Red Cross Club, seven of us and were able to get dinner and breakfast. And now, Mother, I want you to do me a favor; I want you to propagandize the Red Cross among your friends and I want them to give to it until it hurts. You will never realize how much their clubs mean to the fellows over here. They are a taste of home and they do so much for us. We arrived here at four o'clock yesterday, and coffee and doughnuts were immediately produced. And it was real American coffee—the first I have had since I left the States. I have been craving coffee ever since I left home so in the few hours I have been here I must have consumed two gallons. They had shavers here and we were able to clean up which was a great pleasure, for the dirt just so's to keep the Garden City in its usual history making role, a Newton girl, Sergeant Marjorie Joan McGrath of the WAC Detachment, became the bride of Staff Sergeant James Williams of St. Louis, Mo. -MITTENS-

Robert Ward, Blake st., Newtonville, a hostess on the American Air Lines, is proudly wearing a very unusual pair of mittens these days. The mittens were made in a German prison camp by a recently returned Yair veteran. Robert's father, Joe, a veteran of the last war and a captain in this one, caught up with the young, ex-prisoner of the Germans somewhere in his travels and purchased one of the many pairs the soldier offered for sale. According to the soldier's story, his German captors provided the cloth from which the mittens were made and allowed him and his fellow captives to utilize their spare time for their own (the prisoner's) eventual profit.

-OOPS-

There was an old song, popular years ago, which just adds another bit of proof that the old timers knew the score without referring to the records. The title is hazy, but the general idea was to more or less prove that a whale in a little puddle would only be a minnow in a lake. The boys and girls made up a thousand parodies on the thing.

Local Owls were reminded of the old ditty in the early bright, last week, after firefighters from Station One had extinguished a fire in the coal bins of a Newton Corner skyscraper. It was a difficult assignment, the rubber clad firemen having, among other things, to carry five tons of smoldering coal from the cellar.

"Twas a job well done under the expert supervision of Deputy Chief Linehan. The chief, incidentally, had inhaled the gaseous fumes with his men until near dawn, when safety was restored. Then, the chief's zeal for the safety of Garden City property, plus the smoke he'd digested, prompted him to set his course in the direction of the nearest coffee emporium, so's to restore the tissues with a shot or two of java. The Chief didn't think of it at the time, but he was attired in a fireman's night hitch and such hitches, as all firemen know, rarely contain money....

Soo, Chief Linehan, beaming in pleasant anticipation, entered, ordered; discovered he'd brought along no gelt, explained—and then promptly became the world's most flabbergasted fire chief. To all intents and purposes, the restaurant manager was perfectly willing to trust in God. But so far as firemen and, ahem, deputy fire chiefs were concerned, the terms were strictly cash.

Chief Linehan left, his tissues not only unrestored, but on fire by reason of internal combustion!

NEWTON CAP FLIER HAS CLOSE CALL

Plane Enters Target Area

Army Anti-Aircraft gunners fired on a Civilian Air Patrol plane recently that blundered into a target area, the First Service Command revealed today.

The plane was 2,000 feet off shore bound for the Boston area from Maine when ground forces opened fire, mistaking the aircraft for a legitimate target.

Flying in the plane were Arthur H. Tully, Jr., of Cambridge, State Aeronautics Director, and Capt. Frank H. Conant of Newton. They were unhurt and their plane was undamaged.

GAS STATION MAY REPLACE STORES AT NEWTON CORNER

For the first time since gasoline rationing went into effect, the Newton Board of Aldermen held a hearing on a petition for a permit to establish a new gasoline selling station.

The petitioners are Thomas E. Grace and the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company and the site of the proposed filling station is at 221-223 Washington st., near Charlesbank rd., Newton Corner, now occupied by a block of seven stores, five of which are vacant.

That the project is to be undertaken in anticipation of relaxation of restrictions on the use of building materials was stated at the hearing by James P. Gallagher, attorney for the petitioners. He said it is planned to raze the present block and build the station on the site.

BROTHERS LACK REGISTRATION FOR GARBAGE TRUCK

Two brothers who manned a garbage collection truck in Newton yesterday fell afoul of the law because they couldn't produce licenses and a registration.

The older brother, 21, of West Concord, was fined $10 in the Newton District Court on a charge of driving without a license, while a charge of operating without a certificate of registration was placed on file.

The 16-year-old brother was charged with similar offenses, but his case was continued.

The brothers were arrested by Patrolman Leo S. Gagnon. His attention was attracted by the youthful appearance of the driver. When he stopped the truck on Watertown st., West Newton, the younger brother, who was driving, said he operated the car on his brother's license, who was in the truck beside him.

The brothers changed seats and were allowed to go, but later the officer, becoming suspicious again, stopped the vehicle a second time and demanded the older brother's registration, as well as the registration certificate, but the boys were unable to produce either. Investigation revealed that the driver's license had expired last September and had not been renewed.

31 NURSES GIVEN CAPS AT HOSPITAL

Thirty-one girls, including 29 members of the U. S. Cadet Corps, were capped at impressive exercises at the Newton Hospital School of Nursing Friday, Feb. 18, marking the completion of five months of training and their entrance into the clinical part of their course.

Miss Mary E. G. Bliss, a graduate of the school in 1916 and registrar at the Central Directory of Nurses in Boston, was the principal speaker. Miss Mabel McVicker, principal of the school, presented the caps to the students.

The Marine team from Quantico handed the midshipmen their first defeat of the year, 1933 to 1347, including Sgt. Dalton's score of 275.

Sgt. Dalton entered the Marine Corps last September and was promoted to sergeant on completing his "boot" training at Parris Island. He is now an instructor on the Quantico rifle range.

EXTINGUISH FIRE

Newton firemen spent nearly an hour extinguishing a fire in the cellar of the home of Arthur Boisclair, 81 Dalby st., Nonantum.

COLLECTION OF TIN

The monthly collection of tin can took place in Newton on Washington's birthday.

John D. Haughey, street commissioner, revealed that the collection last month totaled two tons less than that of December. He expressed the hope that December's figure will be exceeded this month. A total of 13½ tons was collected in January.

STEALS GASOLINE TO REMOVE LOOT

A thief who stole a water tank from the yard of Frank M. Grant, 6 Channing st., Newton, had added audacity to steal gasoline from Grant's car, evidently to provide motive power for the thief's own machine to carry the loot away.

NEWTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

The Merry Go Round wouldn't want to be accused of harping on the weather, but this winter in Beantown and the general vicinity, has really been tops in the weatherman's records. The high-ways are nude as to snow and the temperature remains in the high- or brackets. It really begins to appear that if this sort of thing continues, the Miami Chamber of Commerce may decide from that so-called Sunshine State and take up permanent abode here. Present conditions indicate no more snow until the adherents of St. Patrick attire themselves in marching array, so's to participate in the Evacuation Day Parade on March 17th. The Storm Gods rarely by-pass that one.

-DIMOUT-

They are taking the dimout shields off the street lights. The first to go were those shading the lights at street intersections. It makes a big difference and the gals aren't so scared about walking home alone. In the neighboring town, Watertown, almost all of the streets are blazing brightly in the old, pre war tempo.

-APPEAL-

The Newton Hospital is appealing for additional volunteer workers. Since the outbreak of the war, 28 doctors and 64 nurses have joined the service. 500 locals are giving their services free, but more are needed to assist the overworked staff up there.

-RAIDS-

Gambling on the speed of a horse is still a popular sport in this state. With no local tracks operating, the betting gentry have been placing their bets with "Bookies" and the police have been busily attempting to place the "Bookies" on ice. It's all a kind of another merry go round. Two locals, partners in the booking business, were arrested in their place of business at Newton Corner, last week, fined two hundred dollars each and placed on probation. Now, their former clientele is betting they will not reopen for business—that probation thing being a horrid deterrent.

-DRIVE-

The Red Cross started its drive for funds on March 1st and pretty nearly everyone is in there assisting our local chapter obtain its quota. Automobiles, public and private, taxi cabs etc., are chasing around town with the attractive flags of the Red Cross fluttering in the breeze.

-WEDDING-

Last week the first military wedding between enlisted personnel at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Texas, was entered in the records of the famous flying field. And (Continued on page 4)

SPORTS... in a Nutshell

Before the largest Newton cheering section of the year the Orange and Black' pucksters whitewashed Stoneham 1-0. The score does not indicate the true form of Newton. The Stoneham goalie was sensational.

The first period was a rough one in which four penalties were assessed. While Flynn was in the penalty box for tripping, Geary came streaking down his right wing boards and let go a power packed shot. Although the Stoneham goalie was almost pulverized by the shot, he made a remarkable save. With about two minutes left in the first period Stoneham really put on the pressure.

Murphy had a screen shot at Swift, but Dan kicked it out with ease. During the time Newton was hemmed in Switzer showed that he was a first rate goal tender by covering the corners of the net like any professional goalie.

Geary put Newton into the scoring column at 3:21. He picked up a loose puck in the center ice zone and skated around the Stoneham defense and let it go an almost impossible angle shot which went into the extreme corner of the cage. The rest of the period was ragged hockey, but Masterson and Wilson were always breaking up Stoneham attacks.

Any school would be proud to have a fellow like Frank Masterson on their squad. Bob Utley has a body like a heavy bag checking and the thing for which he is considered tops is his ability to play the puck off the boards.

For a moment in the third period it looked as if Switzer was going to lose his shutout when Murphy, an outstanding player all season, split the defense and let go a bullet shot, but the capable goalie turned it aside to thrill the Newton crowd, and run his scoreless streak to 188 1-4 minutes.

Pulling the Tigers into a tie for third place with a win over Cambridge Latin 3-26, and a loss to the title bound Waltham 31-25, an undisputed position for third in the final standings seems fairly probable.

The Tigers led all the way in the Cambridge game and, from the half time on, the visitors were never close. Whitey Winesstock led off with a foul by Bryant and Jasset each netted a basket to put the home team in the lead in the opening minutes. Two foul shots for Cambridge ensued before Jasset got his second of the day and Crosby his first, putting Newton well out in front 9-2.

An under the basket shot and a pair of baskets for the "college city" boys brought the score up to 98. Brimblecom, Jasset and Bryant teamed up to put Newton ahead while Latin was sinking two baskets from about 20 feet out, being unable to get by Newton's stellar defense. Rog Bryant dropped his third of the day the night before Russ Crosby wound up the half with a right swisher. Weinstein again led off in the second half. Cambridge kept the pressure on, however, and two fouls for the Tigers and one for the visitors rang the score to 24-10. Jasset caged his fourth of the day and rang up a foul to boot. A pass from Bryant to Crosby, the entire length of the floor and another of the same type from Jasset to Bryant gave Newton a substantial 31-22 advantage. Latin came back with three baskets and Weinstein dropped in two fouls. Weinstein and Brimblecom ended the scoring for the day with two foul shots and the score went down 37-26.

A fast moving Waltham five, paced by its star Al Rodenhizer who racked up 13 points, proved to have the edge on Newton and wound up on the long end of a 31-25 score.

Waltham closed the initial stanza leading 8-4. At the half after Ryan and Brimblecom had scored floor shots and Crosby had netted a foul, the score stood 15-10. Hanson led off the third period with a foul to put the visitors within four points of a tie. Magovern and Scaddi, Waltham's high pointers, dropped in two baskets and the score stood 19-11. However, Russ Crosby, who was constantly seen alone behind the Waltham defence, swished in two baskets to put Newton back in the game, the watch-makers put on the pressure and soon enjoyed a 28-19 lead, its best of the game.

Joe Murphy and Bob Scanlon added four points to the Newton cause before the game ended, but time was running out and Waltham won 31-25.

Feb. 26—Canadians clinched the National Hockey League championship dumping the Bruins 10-2 in Montreal Saturday night. YOU GIVE TO YOUR MAN IN SERVICE WHEN YOU GIVE TO THE RED CROSS

During the month of March, all of us in Newton will be asked to give to the 1944 Red Cross War Fund. Giving to the Red Cross has always been a great proud habit of thousands of Newton families—proud that they could give—proud of their Red Cross that made the giving worthwhile.

This year, Newton's quota is $170,000—48% more than last year. It is a large amount of money that we are asked to give, but it is a large amount of service that Red Cross has pledged itself to give to the men and women in our armed forces all over the world. Of this $170,000—$133,000 goes for national needs, for civilian emergencies; and $37,000 is for Newton Chapter needs for community preparedness and community service.

Of course, you have given before, with a generous and willing heart—but this year, when the need is greater than ever, we ask you to dig deeper and give more than you have in the past—more of your time, more of your work, more of your blood, and more of your money to help Red Cross work go on.

For by giving to your Red Cross, you know that your service man will never be out of your reach—wherever he is, wherever he may go—for Red Cross is always at his side, Cross is at his side, and the Red Cross is YOU.

RED CROSS MOVIES IN FIELD HOSPITAL

From a Field Hospital, somewhere near the fighting line, Lt. Anne E. Tedesco, army nurse, writes her family in West Newton:

This evening a bingo game is going on in one corner of the garage. The Red Cross workers do a wonderful job entertaining patients and taking care of their personal problems."

On February 15, Lt. George T. Haffermehl received the U. S. Air Medal, and the following citation:

"For exceptionally meritorious achievement while participating in five separate bomber combat missions over enemy occupied continental Europe. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this officer, upon these occasions, reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Lt. Haffermehl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis V. Haffermehl of 47 Athelstone rd., Newton Centre, where his wife also makes her home. A letter received by Mrs. Haffermehl last Monday contained the following censored information:

"The Late Date" is no more. Seems we took it over (censored) the other day, and met a little opposition. Did I say "little"? I really meant "too much." To make a long story short, Parks (navigator) started counting the holes in it, when he got to 400 he quit. That will give you a good idea of what happened. It was no fun. My radio man received the Purple Heart."

Such brief comments on a bookful of experiences in which the crew must have lived a life time, reflects their attitude toward what they must consider just another routine job that has to be done!

Lt. Haffermehl attended Aviation School for nearly two years before entering the Air Force as a cadet in February, 1942. He graduated from the Newton High School in 1938.

NEWTON RED CROSS NEEDS DRIVERS

Newton Red Cross is urgently in need of drivers, according to a statement by Mrs. Stanley Stedfast, captain of the Motor Corps for the Newton Chapter. "Here is an opportunity for the patriotic women of Newton to give real and important service. We can't all go to the front with the armed forces, but anyone with a car can help us meet the ever-increasing demands made upon the Corps for community and hospital driving. All between the ages of 18 and 50 are eligible. Help us do the job on the Home Front here in Newton."

For details of requirements, telephone the Motor Corps office at the Chapter House, L.A.S. 6000.

TO RETIRE AS PRESIDENT OF NEWTON SAVINGS BANK

Henry E. Bothfeld Long Active In Management of Bank and Civic Affairs

On Saturday of last week, Mar. 4, Henry E. Bothfeld, president of the Newton Savings Bank, reached his 85th birthday. He is to retire from the presidency on April 17, to be succeeded by Joseph Earl Perry, who resigned as Bank Commissioner to assume this office.

Mr. Bothfeld has long been active in the management of the Newton Savings Bank. He became a trustee in 1903; a member of the Investment Committee in 1905; and President in 1937. His banking experience has been varied and rather extensive. In 1888 he and Judge Charles E. Davis organized the Newton Co-operative Bank which he served as Director until 1925.

He was elected a Director of the National Market Bank of Brighton in 1910. In 1913 he was made Vice President of the Market Trust Company and in 1915 became its president. The Market Trust Company was absorbed by the International Trust Company in 1921. Mr. Bothfeld becoming Senior Vice President. In 1923, the International Trust Company was merged with the First National Bank of Boston with Mr. Bothfeld vice president in charge of the Savings and Mortgage Departments, from which position he resigned in 1930.

His early business association was with J. A. and N. Harwood, of which he was junior partner, succeeded by the National Fibre Board Company. In 1900 he retired to assume the management of trust property.

He is a Charter Member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce of which he was Director in 1917, 1918 and 1919; one of the founders of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks; and is now, and has been for twenty-two years, Treasurer of Simmons College.

His services to our City covered a period of 25 years. In 1891 he was elected to the Common Council and re-elected in 1892. He was elected to the Board of Aldermen in 1893 and 1894, serving as president. In 1895 he was unanimously nominated and elected Mayor and during his term of office, the abolition of the grade crossings of the Boston & Albany Railroad; the incidental widening of Washington st.; and the construction of Commonwealth ave. were finally determined.

The strain imposed by the execution of his plan for the separation of grade crossings affected his health and he declined a re-nomination. However, in 1896 he accepted the chairmanship of a commission to revise the City Charter and the present Charter is the result. He also was asked to adjust and settle claims incident to the widening of Washington st. and the depression of the tracks.

In 1902 he was elected to the School Committee serving ten years, the last 3 as chairman.

In 1910 he was elected to the Legislature, serving six years, and was chairman for five years of Metropolitan Affairs and also Ranking Member of Rules.

In 1916 the family moved to Sherborn where he has been active in Town affairs, having been Moderator for the last 20 years.

The Question Of Poland

By J. T. MacVicar

The Polish boundary question is not a new issue, it is as old as the Polish State created after World War one for the dual purpose of a buffer state between Communist Russia and Aristocratic Capitalist Europe, and a springboard for the invasion of Russia and the abolition of Bolshevism. In this role the Polish Government was a willing pawn of England, France, and Germany prior to Hitler's decision not to trust his confederates, but go alone.

The motives that inspired Polish Patriots to resist Tzarist tyranny was lost sight of in the confusion and dissonance among the Polish Democrats during the transition period, after the first world war. This failure by the Democrats to agree on a national policy gave the Conservative coalition consisting of landed Aristocrats, large industrialists with international affiliations, and supported by the clergy, control of the government.

This Polish government did not respect the boundaries set for it by the international boundary commission, but went to war against a weak revolution spent Russia and extended its boundaries some two hundred miles further east. This war acquired territory east of the Curzon line has a population of 11,000,000 and an area of 78,000 square miles. According to a recent issue of The London Times: "There were approximately only 2,500,000 Polish nationals in this territory when the last reliable census was taken in 1931. This leaves a majority of 8,500,000 White Russians, Ukrainians and other nationals in this territory now claimed by the Polish Government in exile."

Again in 1921 Poland was the first nation to violate the league of Nations covenant and break its solemn promise, with the seizure of Wilno and adjacent territory from Lithuania.

When Hitler invaded Czechoslovakia, Poland mobilized her army and demanded a slice of Czecho-Slovak territory, for this act of aggression against an invulnerable neighbor, Hitler gave Poland the rich Czechoslovakian coal producing district of Teschen.

The Polish Government in exile is anti Russian. And an intense hatred of Russia is fostered by the Clericals notwithstanding protestations to the contrary.

However the real thorn in the flesh is not geographic and racial boundaries but economic. This economic boundary bars Polish industrialists and their foreign associates from exploiting Russian resources and labor for private profit; nor will the Russian Government mortgage the future productive ability of Russian industry to international banking syndicates. It is because of this economic attitude that Russia is considered a Peri by those who reap where they sow not. The Russians know this and will act accordingly when dealing with foreign powers.

Polish liberation from German occupation was effected by the Red Army and only by the withdrawal of the Red Army from the Polish State be re-established. It is only logical to assume that Russia will not withdraw her army until she is satisfied that Poland will act in friendly accord with Russian interests. This the Polish Government in exile did not do.

Aside from its economic significance the Polish boundary question is one of military necessity not a matter of right or wrong. Russia cannot afford to have an anti Russian Poland at her front door any more than we could tolerate a government hostile to our interests in Panama even if our action did not conform with the requirements of the Atlantic Charter, right of self determination or the Ten Commandments for that matter.

The Russian approach to national, international and economic problems is based on the materialistic conception of history, and cannot be understood by looking at it through capitalist spectacles; therefore our many erroneous appraisals of Russian action, intentions and ability.

The Russian Government is not deluded by friendship born of distress nor will they place unqualified confidence in the unfledged camaraderie of the storm. Raw and unadorned realities based on cold facts is their guide to action. This realistic attitude in dealing with conditions as they exist was plainly demonstrated during the years prior to the Munich pact between England, France and Germany which expelled Russia from European affairs. A pact designed to turn the fury of German military might against Russia and assure, "Peace for our time." Before this fiasco of power politics the Soviets persistently endeavor to establish a community of interest among the nations of Europe for peace and to resist Fascist aggression.

This line of realistic reasoning was followed by the Soviets in dealing with England after the German invasion of Russia. The British Government in an effort to establish more amicable relations with the Soviet Republic sent Sir Stafford Cripps, a British Communist to represent the court of St. James in Moscow. Although Sir Stafford was welcome as a comrade in political ideals he was not acceptable as the Ambassador of a capitalist state. The veil was too thin to conceal the fact that any transaction by Sir Stafford could be repudiated without causing the British government undue embarrassment if the occasion for such action arose and who could be better for a scapegoat than a Communist. While comrade Cripps was left out in the cold, Lord Beaverbrook and the tough old Bolshevik fighter Winston Churchill were received with open arms, they were capitalists and delegations by a capitalist nation and could act with authority. This was serious business, the serious business of two nations threatened with destruction endeavoring to find a common ground for united action so that both could survive. When faced with the stern law of survival of the fittest, personalities and economic differences signify nothing.

Again at the Moscow conference the Russian government wanted our anti Russian and anti Communist Mr. Hull, they were not interested in Mr. Hull's political or economic preferences, what they wanted was a representative who with authority was fitted to explore avenues to speed up the war effort and lay a foundation for a permanent peace in a world of diverse concepts. The world as it exists today not the prophetic dream world of the suppositious tomorrow.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 8, 1889
Hotel Hunnewell has been greatly improved during the past year, having had a number of rooms added and the house entirely refitted. The table could not be improved upon, as those who have been Mr. Harwood's guests know. There are now a few vacant rooms, which can be secured by an early application.

Thomas Mague is building an addition to his barn on River st., West Newton, and B. F. Houghton is making an addition to his grocery store, corner of Elm and Washington st.

Residents of Newtonville are already making a stir to get the post office, recognizing the principle that to the victor belongs the spoils, and that active (?) partisanship is not necessarily a disqualification for position in the public service. There is also an effort to secure its removal to the south side of the track.

A large life portrait in oil of the late Seth Davis has been very handsomely framed and will be presented to the city of Newton and hung in the City Hall. The picture was painted by the late O. C. Onthank several months ago, when Mr. Davis had nearly reached his 100th birthday. It is an excellent likeness. It was framed by Mr. A. A. Child, 27 Beach st., Boston.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 8, 1895

The increase of subscribers in the Central telephone office (Newton) has reached such proportions that an inspector to assist Manager Allen has become necessary, and Mr. W. F. Crowell has received the appointment.

The Veteran Firemen's Association held a meeting Wednesday evening and transacted routine business. A supper was then served, the latter proving a decidedly agreeable feature.

The private ward of the Newton Hospital is to be known henceforth as the "Nathan Parker Colburn" ward.

A lapse of time is reported here (Newton Centre) this week. How it was? The clock of the First Church run down. It's a good thing and ought to be pushed along.

Howard Deal (Newton Centre) has sold his hack business to R. J. Ross.

The public telephone here is now located in Cobb's drug store (Newton Centre).

25 YEARS AGO

One thing that must please all of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, and all of the Newton people who contributed generously to the Red Cross funds, is the way the boys over seas speak of the Red Cross in the letters which they send to the Newton Chapter in answer to the letter which the Chapter sent to them. It is always pleasant to know that money given and work done resulted in good.

SUBSCRIBED FOR $3,100,000 IN WAR BONDS
The Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company subscribed for $3,100,000 of the Fourth War Loan Bonds. In addition, 354 field agents made 1,914 sales of the Bonds for a total of $236,816.75 and 36 home office employees made 183 sales for $59,528.75.

Jay R. Benton, president, reports that the combined gain of new insurance for January amounted to $385,761 as against $151,819 for the same period last year.

Of the 33 district offices in New England, the Boston Up-town office had the largest volume of business in 1943 and the Roslindale office had the highest average per agent.

Building Costs About Half of '43

The monthly report of the State Department of Labor and Industries shows the total cost of all building projects undertaken in Newton last year was $236,905 as compared with $523,057 in 1942. During the month of January this year the total cost of projects undertaken was $7,415 as compared with $8,670 in December. In the state as a whole, however, the total last month was greater than in the preceding month.

Only six new dwellings were included in family accommodations erected in Newton last year as compared with 63 new dwellings erected in 1942.

Mr. Kay, who started with the Metropolitan Life as an office boy in the New York Home Office, was the youngest manager ever appointed by his company. Wages and Costs of Living At The National Level

Whether official estimates of costs of living or those of labor groups are used, average weekly "take-home" earnings of industrial workers have kept well ahead. Even average hourly earnings have outstripped the increase in costs of living, both as computed officially and by labor statisticians. Only by comparing straight time hourly wage rates, which have little bearing on costs of living under present conditions but continue to form the unrealistic basis of the Little Steel formula, is it possible to show a lag.

AVERAGE WEEKLY EARNINGS in all manufacturing industries in December, issued this week by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, were a little less than in November, due to the Christmas holiday and widespread absenteeism. Nevertheless, the average "take-home" earnings were 88 per cent greater than in August 1939, the month preceding the outbreak of the European war; 68 per cent greater than in January 1941, the base of the Little Steel formula; and 18 per cent greater than in September 1942, at the level of which prices and wages were to be stabilized under the Price Control Act of October 1942.

AVERAGE HOURLY EARNINGS in all manufacturing industries in December were 59 per cent greater than in August 1939, 46 per cent greater than in January 1941, and 12 per cent greater than in September 1942.

COSTS OF LIVING in large cities in December, as computed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, were 26.3 per cent greater than

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

American Democratic National Committee

One of the most significant developments of the past week politically was the Boston visit of Harry H. Woodring, former Secretary of War under F. D. R. He was here to organize a New England anti-Roosevelt bloc under the auspices of the American Democratic National Committee. Among the local celebrities who attended the Woodring conference were Dean Gleason L. Archer of Suffolk Law School, Joseph Lee, former School Committee member and frequent contestant for a variety of political offices, Charles McGue, former chairman of the Massachusetts Democratic Committee, former State Senator Joseph B. Harrington of Salem, Patrick J. Sullivan, former member of the State Labor Board and others.

Woodring praised former Governor Joseph B. Ely as "one of the greatest patriots in America" and stated that the purpose of this new party was to form a "cohesive block either to defeat Roosevelt at the primaries or in the election." Another striking statement was this: "We propose to take the Democratic party out of the hands of 'Hopkins and Company' and return it to the Jeffersonian Democrats."

Frankly, it seems to me that this new organization has a very tough problem on its hands. Thousands of good Democrats will doubtless "sound off" either in the halls of Congress or out in the country and behave in such a manner as to encourage the Republicans to believe that THIS time Mr. Roosevelt will be defeated quite handsly. However, when it comes to a show-down later this spring and it becomes necessary for some of the political brethren to stand up and be counted, officially, there is an excellent chance that some of the most talkative anti-fourth term advocates will suddenly be engrossed in their business or otherwise occupied. Just wait and see.

One aspect of this current movement, however, is worthy of careful thought. Will the potential strength of the recalcitrant Democrats result in throwing such a scare into the Palace Guard surrounding the President that he himself may decide that the odds against him are far heavier than he had hitherto realized. In other words, is there a bare possibility that Mr. Roosevelt may decide not to risk a possible defeat, either at the convention this summer or at the polls next autumn? Most political observers have proceeded on the assumption that Mr. Roosevelt can have the nomination by merely raising his eyebrows at the proper time. The election is something else again. To be sure, he disposed of Wendell Willkie quite handsly in 1940. That proves nothing about 1944. However, this leads into a consideration of G. O. P. possibilities, which I shall consider briefly in the following paragraph.

Republican Nominee in 1944

Proper, accurate reporting makes it necessary to state that the Willkie campaign is NOT running along too smoothly, either in Massachusetts or the country as a whole. To be sure, Willkie is still very strong in this state, but there are rumblings from time to time which are disconcerting to his staunchest supporters. Quite recently a poll was taken in the western part of the state among seasoned politicians. Much to most peoples' surprise, Gov. Dewey was New York's man ahead of Willkie. Why? This commentator is endeavoring to learn the answer and will duly report it, if and when obtained. It is my impression that a lot of voters are beginning to wonder WHY Willkie is so weak in every poll of Republican Congressmen and other important party leaders. It bothers his ardent supporters no end. How can they sell Willkie to the rank and file of the Republican party if so many of the leaders and workhorses in the party are cold to him? Furthermore, the Dewey strength is most disconcerting. Here is a man who was laughed at as an underdog "Boy Scout" in 1940, who is suddenly gathering prestige and influence over a wide area. Remember, too, that Dewey has not announced his candidacy and may never do so.

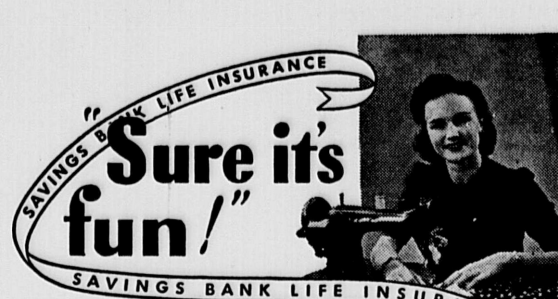

At this point, let me indulge in a little long-term speculation. It occurs to me that neither Willkie nor Dewey will make the grade, that a serious and unbreakable deadlock will eventuate and that a dark-horse will HAVE to be drafted. If that is the case, I predict that the lightning is apt to strike one of four potential candidates, as follows: No. 1—Governor Earl Warren of California; No. 2—Governor Saltonstall of Massachusetts; No. 3—Senator Harold H. Burton of Ohio and No. 4—former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

That is as far out on a limb as I care to go today. Let us hope that nobody cuts off the limb.

Yours sincerely,
RUPERT C. THOMPSON, Secretary.

THREE SCHOOLS FLYING MINUTE MAN FLAG

The 3 schools of the Mason School District, the Mason, Rice and Bowen are each flying the Minute Man flag in March. This means that over 90 per cent of the pupils bought war savings stamps and bonds during February. Presentation of the Minute Man flag to the Bowen School will be made in the near future. The percentages were as follows: Mason—98 per cent. Bowen—98 per cent. Rice—93 per cent.

NOMINATED for the HALL OF FAME

Last week we surveyed briefly the interesting careers of Mr. Guyas Williams, artist and cartoonist, of West Newton and Mr. Elijah William Cunningham, better known as Bill Cunningham of the Boston Herald, who lives in Newtonville. Today we shall touch on some of the high-spots in the lives of Chief Justice Fred T. Field of Newton and Mr. Richmond Knapp Fletcher of Waban, prominent artist, and nationally known song composer.

Chief Justice Field, who lives at 36 Fairmont ave., Newton, was born in Springfield, Vermont, Dec. 24, 1876. He is the son of Frederick Griswold Field and Anna Melanie (Tarbell) Field. He received his education at Vermont Academy, Saxtons River and Brown University, where he graduated in 1900 with an A.B. degree. In 1903 he obtained his L.L.D. from the Harvard Law School. From 1905 until 1912 he served as Assistant Attorney General of Massachusetts under the late Herbert Parker and the late Dana Malone.

Mr. Field has long been an expert on taxation and during the first world war was a member of the U. S. Advisory Tax Board. On Oct. 11, 1922, he married Miss Gertrude Alice Montague of Cambridge. The couple have one daughter, Miss Ann Montague.

Governor Frank G. Allen appointed Mr. Field an Associate Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts in 1929. Then, in 1938, when Chief Justice Arthur Prentice Rugg died, Governor Charles F. Hurley elevated Justice Field to the position of Chief Justice. He is still serving us in that capacity.

Many academic honors have been bestowed on the Chief Justice during the past decade. Dartmouth College gave him an L.L.D. in 1931; Amherst and Williams Colleges followed suit in 1939; a year later the University of Vermont did likewise. Still more recently Boston University gave him a D.C.L. (Doctor of Civil Law).

When the writer asked Justice Field if he had any hobbies he said that there had been no time in his very busy life for much diversion. Those who are privileged to know him understand just what he means by that statement. He is an excellent example of a man who has carved out a splendid career by dint of tireless work and tremendous concentration.

Mr. Richmond Knapp Fletcher, known to his intimates as "Skip" Fletcher, began his career as an architect and has wound up as a very fine artist. Mr. Fletcher was born in Lowell, Mass., on March 23, 1885. He is the son of Horace B. Fletcher and Frances (Knapp) Fletcher. He obtained his education at Lowell High School and Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. From there he went to Harvard, graduating in 1908 with an S.B. degree.

As far back as his college days he became known throughout the country as the composer of college and fraternity songs. After writing Old P. A. Andover and Royal Blue at Phillips Academy, better known as Andover, he wrote the still famous Gridiron King and Soldiers Field for use during the football season at Harvard. He is also the author of Red Pepper and the Harvard 1908 Reunion Song.

Members of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity are still singing Mr. Fletcher's Stars Ablaze, Conversion Days and the Fraternal Hymn.

In 1912 he married Miss Marion Faulkner of Lowell. The Fletchers have one son, Winthrop, and have lived for some years now in Waban at 34 Annawan rd. Incidentally, one of Mr. Fletcher's first public exhibitions was at the Waban Neighborhood Club, where it attracted extraordinarily favorable comment. Mr. Fletcher, since leaving the architectural field some years ago, has been painting portraits, as well as murals and landscapes and doing considerable decorative designing. He has also made a very important contribution to his country as an inspector of marine camouflage in the New England district for the U. S. Shipping Board.

In addition to the above, Mr. Fletcher has found time to write a host of many technical articles and to travel a bit in England, France and Italy, prior, of course, to the present world war. He has also contributed to juvenile magazines and has proved clever at inventing unusual types of puzzles. He is an excellent example of a versatile man who has wound up by turning an avocation into a real vocation.

A Newtonite On Broadway

By SAUL R. EXELBERT

OF THINGS TO COME—One evening of gala entertainment to be held at Madison Square Garden, March 13, sponsored by the Emergency Committee to Save the Jewish People of Europe has New York citizens about this "Show of Shows" rally and why not?

With such galaxy of stars from screen, stage and radio as Bob Hope, Jimmie Durante, Gracie Fields, Paul Robeson, Ruth Gordon, Oscar Levant, Paula Laurence, Karen Cooper, Ted Lewis and his band, Sgt. Barney Ross, Carol Bruce, Gertrude Lawrence, Count Basie and his Orchestra and Zero Mostel, a few of the already listed. Sgt. Ross, hero of the Guadalcanal campaign and former lightweight champ, will head the group of wounded World War II heroes who will be honored at the show. Ross himself pledged $300 of mustering-out pay to purchase 150 tickets for members of the armed forces. And if by any chance it should happen to be a guest of theatrical hospitality about that time, get your order in now for this top-notch eve-to-be, $70,000 of tickets have been sold already—and no wonder!

WHAT'S NEW—TO-NITE—Opera critics are raving about last week's City Center production of eight operas at reasonable prices and eight excellent operas which won for City Center high praise in its bid to give New York the best entertainment in music and drama for those who can't enjoy them at regular houses. The trio of operas "Tosca," "Martha" and "Carmen" received acclaim from every well-known opera critic, and the Center itself was a sell-out practically every night. "Carmen" drew such musical personalities as Gladys Swarthout, Argentinia and her partner Jose Greco, Giovanni Martinelli accompanied by Fortune Galle, Eudorick Jagel, Nicolai Moscona, Muriel Dickson, former Met star, Queena Mario, Dorothy Kirsten, Ethel Barrymore Colt, who debuted in "Martha," and Dusolina Giannini whose "Tosca" scored a first-night hit.

Also at the "Carmen" performance, which had the famous French star Jennie Tourel winning laurels, were Elsa Maxwell, Mrs. Grant (formerly Barbara Hutton), Jessie Donahue, Jean Dalrymple, Mrs. Dickey Fellows Gordon and Valentin Parera (Grace Moore's husband). And of course your correspondent, who was like a youngster peering through a knot-hole getting a glimpse of the stars—and don't think that I didn't get a thrill! First nighters are what they are cracked up to be.

ADD NEWTON PLUGS—Recently in an Elsa Maxwell story about Dorothy Thompson, the cosmopolitan Elsa had this to say about Newton—and in the first paragraph, "Last year she (Dorothy) was helping the Third War Loan Drive by speaking in Newton, Mass., which is the Bronxville of Boston—conservative and rich." See, only when you leave home, do you get to appreciate what others think of your nest!

LEAP YEAR BABY CELEBRATES FIRST BIRTHDAY

On February 29th at 3 p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Lawson was a scene of great activity, when little Mary Ann celebrated her very first birthday, although she was four years old.

All the bright colors of the springtime decorated the table while favors, prizes and the Jack Horner pie proved to be very popular.

The guests were Judy Kelleher, Noelle Kelleher, Ben De Castro, Sally Louise DeCastro, Joan Zerga, Steven Zerga, Joe Cunningham, Linda Calderwood, Ann Keefe, Richard Keefe, Paul Gilligan, Joe Gilligan, Richard Culey, Mary Margaret Keefe, Janet Winning, Ruth Winning, Jean Gordon, Johnny Ryan, Joe Zeno. Playing games was the entertainment enjoyed by all.

Two extra special gifts came for the day to Mary Ann: a beautiful party dress came her godmother, Lieutenant Edith M. Durcan, the first Newton nurse to join the Army, now stationed in Great Britain.

A big brown Teddy Bear came from her godfather Lieutenant Colonel Ambrose T. McGuckian, now in Washington, D. C.

The Newton Club was organized on April 26, 1923, and received its charter from Rotary International on November 20, 1923. Since that time Harry Hanson, General manager and president of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Company, has maintained a perfect attendance.

Kiwanis Activities

The Newton Kiwanis Club was pleased to have as its guest last Tuesday Dr. W. Henry Shillington, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Newton Upper Falls.

After the usual fine luncheon, Charles Floyd, prominent Newton citizen and chairman of the Newton division of the Red Cross War Drive, spoke in behalf of the drive. He said that Newton's quota is $170,000 and that the national quota is $200,000,000. He outlined briefly the work of the Red Cross, mentioning the blood bank, the making of bandages, the training and recruiting of nurses, and the preparation and distribution of food packages to war prisoners as the main contributions of the Red Cross to the war effort. He asked for the active co-operation of every Kiwanian in support of the campaign.

Pete Pettengill read a poem, presumably written by himself, about the forthcoming Penny Sale on March 21. Pete is chairman of the committee in charge and proved himself to be a good poet as well.

A movie entitled "America Can Give It" was announced by Bill Jasso for next week.

The speaker of the day, Mr. Carl Wetherell, executive secretary of the Boston Young Men's Christian Union and a member of the Greater Boston Soldiers' and Sailors' Committee, was presented to the club and spoke very interestingly on the work being done by the U. S. O. and other agencies for the service men. He told about the inauguration of the work by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Committee and the U. S. O. which now operates the Buddies Club on Boston Common. There are five main centers operated by the Greater Boston U. S. O. in addition to many other organizations which are part of the whole picture. These include the Y. M. C. A., the center operated by the Jewish Welfare Board, the Young Men's Christian Union, and others.

Mr. Wetherell said that service men on leave for the most part will be left alone and do not wish to be overprogrammed. They do, however, appreciate tremendously the service that is rendered to them by the U. S. O. and others. He spoke of the personal services which the soldiers and sailors are given and how these needs are being met. "Greater Boston," he said, "has proved that it is not a cold city as far as hospitality is concerned." He described the service rendered by the Stage Door Canteen, all of whose services are free because of wholehearted financial backing given to it.

In closing Mr. Wetherell expressed the hope that many of the agencies now serving so well may be continued after the war for at least as long as there is a need to be met.

The club members were very enthusiastic about Mr. Wetherell's presentation and seemed to feel that the work being done for service men is indeed worthwhile.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST OF NEWTON

391 Walnut St., Newtonville

Services—Sunday, 10:45—Wednesday, 8:00 P.M.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches, on Sunday, March 12, 1944, will be "Substance."

The Golden Text, "The invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead is from Romans 1:20. Other Scriptural lessons will include "Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished" (Isaiah 51:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, one passage of which is "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: 'The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen'" (p. 468).

War Parents Hold First Meeting

"War Parents of America" made appropriate use of Newton's War Memorial Auditorium, dedicated to the dead of all wars, at the first membership meeting of Newton Chapter No. 14 Monday, Mar. 6. Honorary life membership was bestowed on Antonio and Maria Magni, parents of Aviation Cadet Pompei Christopher Magni, who was killed in an air collision.

79 Members Added

President A. L. Moriarty, one of the best known citizens of Newton, reported 79 new members, one for each year of his age. He is the grandfather of two service men who were brought up by Mrs. Moriarty and himself.

Prof. Stephen F. Hamblin, Harvard University, volunteer secretary of the national body and father of two service sons, made a scholarly presentation of the "War Parents Rehabilitation Plan."

The evening was concluded with a full hour of the type of vaudeville entertainment that has been furnished by Eddie Lyons, postal clerk at Brookline, resident of Newton, marathon runner for the past 27 years, entertainer extraordinary.

The troupe consisted of Vivian Bowles of Watertown, rumba dancer; Tommy Pinzoni, Waltham, wizard of the accordion; Marjory Detains, Newtonville, baton swinging; Esther Kelly, Watertown, tap dance in costume; Donny Burnes, Brighton, magician; Mrs. Doris Angera, Waltham, dancer, and Miss Vickie Venudo, "Italian Songbird"; and 9-year-old Jimmy Nicolotto of Auburndale.

Woodworking was one of many practical arts demonstrated at the recent exposition of the Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America at the Newton Armory. These three Waban Scouts of Troop 10, Dean Robinson, Paul Wiggins and William Dunkle, Jr., proved themselves quite at home behind the work bench. Newton Boy Scouts are sponsored by the Newton Community Chest.

JEROME FREEMAN ROSS

Jerome Freeman Ross, a resident of the Newton Y. M. C. A. dormitory for 25 years, died suddenly in Bangor on Sunday.

He entered the employ of the Great Northern Paper Company at Millinocket, Maine, in 1916, was transferred to the Boston office in 1919, and in 1936 was named assistant traffic manager.

His room at the Y. M. C. A. was perhaps unique among dormitory rooms throughout the entire country as he had expressed his artistic taste by furnishing the large room richly with Chinese art objects. It was there that he made an interesting home for himself during his long period of residence in Newton. Mr. Ross was highly regarded by his fellow dormitory men, the members of the Y. M. C. A. staff, and his many friends in Newton.

Mr. Ross was a member of Aberdour Lodge, St. Paul's Royal Arch Chapter; Boston Commandery, No. 2, Knights Templar, and Aleppo Shrine. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Mary M. Ross; a sister, Mrs. Arthur M. Bean; a brother, Charles S. Ross; two nieces, Mrs. Frank Faulkner and Miss Patricia Ross, Jr., all of Bangor; also a nephew, C. Albert Bean, USN.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of his brother, 23 Elizabeth ave., Bangor, Me. Mr. George W. Hokanson of Newton Highlands represented the Newton Y. M. C. A. at the services, as well as Lieutenant Harry L. Annis, USN, both being former dormitory residents.

CHARLES W. E. FORCE

Charles W. E. Force of 80 Crescent st., West Newton, died at his home on Sunday, March 5.

Mr. Force was born in New York City and before coming to Newton had resided in Ayer. He was a member of Ayer Aerle, Eagles, and the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias. He was a retired foreman of a cutlery factory.

Surviving him are two daughters, Mrs. Joseph L. Monahan of West Newton with whom he had made his home, and Mrs. Alice Wheaton of Jamaica Plain, also a sister, Mrs. R. A. Conover of Palmyra, New Jersey.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at two o'clock in the Newton Cemetery Chapel.

ELLEON F. PENNEY

Mrs. Elleon F. Penney, wife of Loren W. Penney of 213 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, died at her home on Wednesday, March 8.

Mrs. Penney was in her 90th year. She was born in Northfield, Vt., the daughter of George L. and Anne D. (Brigham) Noyes. She had been a resident of Newton for more than 50 years.

Funeral services will be held at the Newton Cemetery Chapel Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Ben Roberts of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church will officiate. Interment will be in the Newton Cemetery.

Newton Postoffice Bowlers

The crack postoffice bowling team representing Newton continues to ride high in the 16 team league of Boston Postal District, sharing the lead with Parcel Post, the league champion for the past two years. Although four teams were tied in early February for first place the Newton and Parcel Post teams have been able to break away gradually and are now 5 points ahead of the field. However, May 18th is a long way off but the Garden City Five expect to be on top when the whistle blows. Pat Hason and Dick Swift run second and third high in the individual league averages, with Joe O'Gorman, John Kane and Mike Whelan close behind. It is an evenly balanced team with some boys rising up with high scores if their team mates falter. In this way many matches have been won since September when the season started.

Newton Junior Community Club

Monday evening, March 6, in the Newton Y. M. C. A., Mrs. D. J. Lavery of Newton Highlands represented the Speakers Bureau of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross at the meeting of the Newton Junior Community Club.

Mrs. Lavery traced the history of the Red Cross and told of the added responsibilities through the years. She mentioned the type of work that is being done for servicemen both at home and abroad for prisoners of war, and for families of servicemen. A sample food package distributed to prisoners of war was shown, as well as a survivors fully equipped bag. Other phases of her talk included the manner in selecting field representatives for overseas duty, the can'teen service, and a summary of the many courses offered by the Red Cross and the duties of graduates of each course. She urged all to donate blood and said that the nationally known "gallon club" originated in Newton.

Applications were filled out by many club members to go in a group to the blood donors center on Tuesday, March 21. Others expressed an interest in taking an evening nurses' aide course, and signed up for a course which will begin about April 1.

The meeting was arranged by the co-chairmen of the community service and war work committee, Mrs. Ivan K. Hoyt and Mrs. C. Lawrence Barber.

During the business session conducted by Miss Alice M. Anderson, president, attention was called to the annual Spring Junior Conference of the State of Massachusetts which will be held on Saturday, April 1, at Quincy.

An additional number of members registered to visit the Seamen's Friendly Society on March 26 for an evening of entertainment.

The "Spring Dessert-Bridge" to be held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on March 15 for the benefit of the philanthropic fund was reported on by the chairman, Miss Ruth W. Aldrich.

The next meeting of the club will be on Monday, April 3, when the yearbook committee, Miss Margaret Wilson and Mrs. Warren E. MacMath, co-chairmen, will be in charge of the program.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served. Mrs. Herbert B. Dwight represented the advisory committee at the meeting.

The homes of Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. Phillip Adams, Mrs. Harold Billings, Mrs. Ralph Conant, Mrs. Ralph Emerson, Mrs. Merton Holmes, Mrs. Harry Johnson and Mrs. Roger Wheelock will be open for this club event.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer of the Women's Advisory Committee of the Newton Trust Company introduced the speaker, Professor Gezork.

Day Jr. High

The teachers and pupils were pleasantly surprised just before the vacation by a brief visit from Major Burkhard, who stopped in long enough to greet many of us personally and all of us by way of the communications system. It seemed like old times to hear his cheerful voice speaking on a phone near to his heart, the War Loan Drive. The school had reached the 100 per cent participation quota with total sales of $6045.75 in the Fourth War Loan Drive, enough to buy three field ambulances and $707.75 in addition for extra equipment. One of the ambulances is to have on it a plate containing the name of the Day Junior High School as donor.

The Daytonian, the school paper, has been published again after a lapse of several years, and the edition was sold out before noon on the day of its appearance. The staff consists of the following: Managing Editor, Donald Cox; business staff, Ernest Boudreau, Manager Alfred Visco, Louie Visco; Publicity, Shirley Cassell; Features, Ann Eddy; Publishers, Charles Billings; News Editor, Jim Henderson; Reporting Staff, Edward Belfrey, William Collins, and William Vincent; Humor, Merritt Mahoney; Sports, James Bonnar; Editor, John Chase; Faculty Adviser, Mr. Cowles.

Last Thursday the Bond and Stamp sales totaled $332.70 with the following home rooms reporting 100 per cent participation:

Grade 7, rooms 8, 17, 24, 27, 29.
Grade 8, rooms 11, 15, 23.
Grade 9, rooms 19, 22, 26, 30.

On display at this time in the auditorium were the plaques for a field ambulance and the government citation.

At the weekly assembly the 8th Grade Drama Elective Class presented the one-act comedy, "Little Darling." The cast included Juniper, Eleanor Burton, Mr. Burton, Jessie Burton, Lew Manders, Viola Burton; Properties, William Haberre and James Winterbottom; Lights, Robert St. George; Student coach, Estabrook Grove.

The first Record Hop was held on Friday afternoon, from 2:45 until 4 in the girls' gymnasium under the chairmanship of Edward Ryan of Gr. 9.

The final game of the Eighth Grade Girls' Basketball Series was "played off" last Wednesday between rooms 15 and 25. The score was 9 to 6 in Room 15's favor.

"WHEN YOU GIVE TO RED CROSS YOU GIVE TO US—"

That is what one of the volunteers was told the other day when he put a Red Cross War Fund poster in the window of the Avalon Spa in Newton Highlands. "Sure," said John Mahakian, proprietor, "you can do anything you want because I know what Red Cross is doing for our soldiers. I have two nephews, both in the Army in England, and they write home all the time how Red Cross is doing everything for them." In one letter they said, "Be sure to give to Red Cross because when you give to Red Cross you give to us!"

During the next twelve months, Newton Red Cross must assume a greater burden than ever before in its history. We must anticipate more and more demands upon our resources, for as the war goes into its most decisive stage, our responsibilities for increased service will grow—service to the men and women in the armed forces and to their families left here at home, to the returning wounded and disabled servicemen, to the ever-growing number of prisoners-of-war, to those whose very lives depend upon the blood plasma that we can help supply.

These are but a few of the urgent demands upon our Red Cross—but a few of the reasons that we ask the people of Newton to subscribe $170,000, so that Red Cross can be kept at the side of your boy in the service.

$40,696.00 FOR RED CROSS IN FIRST WEEKOak Hill Advanced Gifts Exceed Quota

Charles B. Floyd, chairman of the Newton Red Cross War Fund reports $40,696.00 returns for the first week of the campaign to raise $170,000, 48 per cent more than last year, the major portion of which will be used for service to the armed forces.

"The returns from the Industrial Division," said Mr. Floyd "are quite satisfactory. In the Advanced Gifts Division, we are not getting the increases in every Village which we must have if we are to reach our quota. On the other hand, several of the Villages are well on their way to exceeding their quotas for Advanced Gifts." In this connection, Oak Hill Advanced Gifts, with Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard as chairman was the first Division to report "over the top" in the Sunday, March 5, drive for funds.

"In the house-to-house campaign being conducted by some 1500 volunteers in the Women's Division, the results have been very gratifying in many instances," continued Mr. Floyd. "Many people are contributing who have never done so before, and we are finding increases in many gifts. However, if we are to make our quota, we must continue to step up the contributions at least 50 per cent over last year in the residential division—and we must meet our quota to keep Red Cross at his side all over the world."

Division and Village quota which have just been released are as follows:

Industrial Division $22,000
Advanced Gifts Division:
Auburndale $2,770
Chestnut Hill 12,700
Newton 11,800
Newton Ctr., Wab. Hill 6,170

Oak Hill Advanced Gifts Division, with Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard as chairman, was the first to report "Over-the-Top" in the Sunday, March 5th drive for funds.

When the Volunteer went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perley Whelden of 516 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, she was given a contribution for the Red Cross War Fund, plus $4 extra. "This $4," exclaimed Mr. Whelden, "is from my son Private Frank Marsh Whelden, serving with the U. S. Army in England. He sent it home and specified that we give it to Red Cross because of the many fine things Red Cross is doing for him and his friends overseas."

When a Red Cross War Fund poster was taken to the Biltmore Cafe in Upper Falls, an employee said, "Just ask for something for Red Cross and I will see that you get it. I went through Guadalcanal and saw them at work in the South Pacific and I am here to tell you that my being home in Newton was made possible by Red Cross help."

Mrs. John Leary of Newton, a worker in the Women's Division, had seven two-family houses from which to get contributions. She reports that in one day she got contributions from 36 adults in these houses, accounting for all but one family living there.

DOUGHNUTS FOR THE ARMY AND THE NAVY

How much the good old American doughnut served far from home means to the men in all branches of the service is shown by the letters they write home.

Mrs. Rose Badger of Newton Motor Corps received a postcard from England, picturing a Clubmobile, with this message, "A picture of the Red Cross doughnut wagon which comes around every week. You should see the mad rush. A great organization and doing their part."

And this is what was in a recent letter to Mrs. W. W. Strahbehn, a Red Cross volunteer, from her husband who is Commander of a Destroyer, "Our Red Cross doughnut girls came down and after the movies they gave each of the men doughnuts and a smile. It was really well done. It takes ability to give away doughnuts and something extra!"

A large proportion of the Newton Red Cross War Fund of $170,000 will be used for the boys in the armed forces—to give them clubs and recreation huts, blood plasma and surgical dressings, and doughnuts and a smile. Give—so that Red Cross can be at his side!

NEWTON CENTRE LIEUT. PRAISES RED CROSS

"Red Cross does the right things, and the things to keep us happy, and does them in the right way," writes Lt. Wooster P. Giddings from overseas to his wife in Newton Centre. "I am sure I never appreciated the excellence and worth of that organization when I was at home, but now I've had a chance to see it in action over here. Their personnel has been wisely chosen, and Red Cross has made itself in fact the popular organization that we have always heard them to be. Enlisted men and officers alike agree in that. Not only do they maintain reading and recreation rooms, and put on all the movies, but in addition to those things they have been most helpful in solving the many problems that come up."

"When we get together again, there are at least two things that we should do a bit more religiously than we have in the past. One of them is go to church, and the other is to be generous and regular in our contributions to the Red Cross."

FIRST AID CLASS FOR NEWTON

A standard First Aid Class will be held at the Newton Red Cross Chapter House, 21 Foster st., Newtonville, on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30, beginning March 14, it was announced by Mrs. C. O. Mooney, newly appointed chairman of the First Aid Committee. "Here is an opportunity to learn the correct immediate, temporary treatment in case of an accident," says Mrs. Mooney. "There are still vacancies for this class and enrollment can be made by telephoning Newton Red Cross, Lasell 6000."

A Lecture on Christian Science entitled Christian Science: The Revelation of the Christ

by
WILLIAM DUNCAN KILPATRICK, C.S.B., of Detroit, Michigan
Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church,
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

Under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, a lecture on "Christian Science: The Revelation of the Christ," was given last Monday evening, March 6th, at 8:00 p. m. in the Church Edifice, 391 Walnut st., Newtonville.

The lecturer was introduced by Mrs. Helen L. Leighton, Second Reader, who said:

My Friends:

Christian Science is founded on the Bible. The Leader of the Christian Science Movement, Mary Baker Eddy, has said in her writings, "The Bible was my only textbook"; and the first Tenet, or rule of our religion is this "As adherents of Truth we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal life."

No doubt we will all agree that the teachings of the Bible are fundamental; and I believe we will all be willing to listen to arguments and statements based upon and derived from these fundamental truths.

Our lecturer will show us that although parts of the Bible may seem to be obscure and difficult to understand yet it can be satisfactorily and comfortably made plain as the new light of Christian Science is turned on its pages; and this lecture will also show us how these truths can be made helpful and useful to us in our present-day experience.

Our lecturer is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The subject of his lecture is "Christian Science: The Revelation of the Christ." It is my privilege to introduce to you our lecturer, Mr. William Duncan Kilpatrick of Detroit.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:
The refinements of time made manifest in the advancement of the human race from a plane of existence slightly above that of the animal to its present mental and spiritual level, is proof conclusive of the gradual and eternal redemptive influence of the invisible and imperishable Christ in the consciousness of men. Throughout the ages this ever-present spiritual force has guided and influenced through even though mortals were unaware of the divine presence thus shaping their destinies.

At every crisis in the history of the world God has provided that which would not only save the race from the impending disaster but which would also elevate the race a little higher in moral perception and spiritual achievement. A crisis now confronts mankind. A state of almost universal despair and desolation reaches out for that which will guide and comfort. The old supports no longer offer much hope. They have been tried and found wanting. Men find little in the old theories and superstitions, religious or otherwise, to which they can cling.

War is not the product of natural subsequent of Christianity. God and His Christ do not include the consciousness and recognition of war, strife, or conquest. War and all that goes with it is the result of man's abandonment of the spirit of the Christ and his return to the flesh-pots of mammon. Something spiritually vital and virtue must animate the consciousness, so that they may make amends, not for the fall of Christianity but rather for their own abandonment of its saving and guiding influence. Christianity has never failed men, but men have sadly failed in their devotion and allegiance to the Christ. Hence war and confusion on the earth.

Now is the time to seek that which, as in times past, God has provided to meet the need of His people and to lift them to that heaven which is vouchsafed all who trust in Him. If that which men have looked to by way of spiritual support and succor has failed to save them from the disasters of war and revolution, we may rest assured that God in His infinite beneficence is now present to provide men that which the old theories have failed to provide and which must be had to meet their need.

Civilization, today, stands at the crossroads. It is confronted with the grave and momentous necessity of making choices upon which depends the fate of mankind. The responsibility is greater than that which ever before faced men. The safety and stability of all society hang in the balance. Upon the wisdom, integrity, and sanity of those upon whom the burden of decision rests, the future of the world depends. A wrong step here or mistaken motives and misguided judgment there may terminate in disaster, or at best, destructive delay. Selfishness, personal ambition, greed, reprisals, hatred, revenge and avarice must have no place in the negotiations looking to a permanent and successful world peace if true Christianity is to govern the minds of those in whom this greatest of all trusts is placed.

Reconstruction is the watchword of the day, but reconstruction may be a misguided and futile effort unless undertaken on the broad platform of Christian ethics upon which democracy is supposed to be built. The underlying Principle of Christianity is God, and a full and demonstrable understanding of Him is requisite to right motives and action. Reconstruction, to fulfill the true meaning of that term along the lines of Christian democracy, must have as its foundation God and the Christ-principle expounded and lived by the man Jesus. No other foundation can be laid than that upon which Jesus the Christ wrought all of his wonderful works.

False Theory and Practice Must Be Abandoned

The day has arrived in the history of mankind when a theoretical and chimerical sense of religion must be abandoned for the demonstrable and practical Christianity which Jesus proclaimed and demonstrated. If humanity is hereafter to live in peace and security, no true, lasting, or scientific reconstruction can be forthcoming except as a result of the application of the teachings enunciated and proved by the Master; and, therefore, to attempt the solution of the world's gravest problems with aught but a pure Christian platform for thought and action will assure failure at the outset. This is so because the catastrophic events of the immediate past are due to the activities and processes of the anti-Christ throughout the world and also to the failure on the part of so-called Christians to follow the precepts of true Christianity as directed by the Master.

Who Shall Write the Peace?

Naturally and obviously a Christian background for the deliberation of any problem could not come from those not grounded in the Christian faith. Democracy is postulated upon the basis of pure Christianity. Who then shall write into the pages of the peace settlement the terms upon which the world must hereafter conduct and maintain itself? What man can understand the democratic way who is not a Christian? Pomp, form, ostentation, and ceremony deny and belittle the Christ-spirit and defeat the processes and purpose of true Christianity. Christianity is of the heart and includes no ritualistic restrictions, observations, or forms.

Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy, and the Bible

The teachings and modes of a true religion founded upon the precepts of Jesus the Christ are best explained by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in her comprehensive work entitled "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," the Christian Science textbook. Through spiritual inspiration gained from her lifelong study of the Bible, together with a deep and innate spiritual sense, Mrs. Eddy was enabled to interpret for all humanity the deeper import and intent of Holy Writ. Her life of sacrifice, purity, and devotion to a holy purpose is well known, and her place among the world's greatest benefactors has long since been acknowledged and assured. The important role which the Bible plays in the presentation to the world of Christian Science is revealed in the words of Mrs. Eddy in "Science and Health" as follows:

"In the year 1856, I discovered the Christ Science or divine laws of Life, Truth, and Love, and named my discovery 'Christian Science' (p. 107).

In following these leadings of science, the Bible was my only textbook. The Scriptures were illumined; reason and revelation were reconciled; and afterwards the truth of Christian Science was demonstrated. No human pen nor tongue taught me the Science contained in this book, Science and Health; and neither tongue nor pen can overthrow it" (p. 110).

"The Bible has been my only authority. I have had no other guide to the right and narrow way of Truth" (p. 129).

Through the inspiration and revelation thus divinely bestowed upon the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science and given to the world in the Christian Science textbook and other writings of Mrs. Eddy, humanity is given access to impregnable defense against the influences and attacks of evil of every nature. The study, research, and application of spiritual principles enunciated by Mrs. Eddy's explanation of Christian Science in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" brought to the world an explanation of God which is not only revolutionizing, stabilizing, and elevating, but it has brought in respect to the divine Being, but which also provides a foundation upon which may be built in human consciousness that superstructure of spirituality and eternal foresight of divine Mind can be never prevail.

Christian Science and the Business Man

Through Christian Science men learn how to apply an understanding of God to the everyday affairs of human existence. Thus are the activities of men freed from the limitations of human incapacity and all the influences of the carnal or mortal mind which subject our affairs to uncertainty, change, reversal, and failure. Human endeavors resulting from the activity of Truth in the individual human consciousness are under the constant protection, guidance, and direction of an intelligence which is free from all human limitations, opinions, and influences.

To realize that the government is on God's shoulders and to know God well enough to be able to place all our affairs under His care and guidance is to endow our every activity with the assurance, certainty, and success which characterize God's unerring rule. In the Lord's Prayer, we are taught to repeat, "Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven." This implies and emphasizes the fact that through the correct concept of God and its correct application to human affairs, the intelligence, wisdom, and unerring foresight of divine Mind can be brought to bear in our every activity.

All limitation comes from the belief that man is an individual entity separate and apart from God, and that for that reason he is subject to all the human limitations and incapacity which that conviction implies and invites. On the other hand, man's understanding of God and the application of that understanding in individual consciousness relieves one of the menace of human limitations, responsibility, and incapacity which one's activities with an intelligence and vision devoid of all human hindrances.

Alluding to this particular feature of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy writes in "Science and Health" (p. 128): "The term Science, properly understood, refers only to the laws of God and to His government of the universe inclusive of man. From this it follows that business men and cultured scholars have found that Christian Science enhances their endurance and mental powers, enlarges their perception of character, gives them acuteness and compreheves that twice five is twenty he is bound to suffer from the operation of the unchanging law, or principle, of mathematics, just as long as he entertains the false belief about twice five. That error is its own punishment. No human being is the author of the penalties to which his own mistaken beliefs subject him. Thus it is with sin. Mrs. Eddy's statement to the effect that sin is its own executioner is not an expression of her human opinion; she is setting forth a fact. In her book "Retrospection and Introspection" Mrs. Eddy writes (p. 64): "Sin ultimates in sinner, and in this sense they are one. You cannot separate sin from the sinner, nor the sinner from his sin. The sin is the sinner." Thus we see that man is a sinner as long as he sins and that the moment he ceases to sin he ceases to be a sinner. Therefore, as soon as a man ceases to sin he ceases to be the object of that law which says that sin punishes itself. If sin brings punishment, then as long as a man sins cution of the Master and the religion that he taught furnishes comforting conviction that sin is punished only so long as sin lasts and that the most ardent sinner may become a most fruitful laborer in the vineyard of the Lord.

In "Miscellaneous Writings" Mrs. Eddy writes (p. 328): "Whatever obstructs the way, causing to stumble, fall, or faint, those mortals who are striving to enter the path, divine Love will remove; and uplift the fallen and strengthen the weak. Therefore, give up thy earthly weights; and observe the apostle's admonition, 'Forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those which are before.' Then, loving God supremely and thy neighbor as thyself, thou wilt safely bear thy cross up to the throne of everlasting glory."

The Hidden Recesses of Crime

A clear realization of the scientific background of all of this is forthcoming with an understanding

Christian world dwell in blissful ignorance of the hidden and unseen forces of occultism and evil. Altogether too long has the operation of the Christ in the human consciousness been limited by the bonds of ecclesiastical ignorance, bigotry, form, and superstition. Too long has a personal and limited sense of God, Christ, and man bound to earth the enlightening and liberating influences of reason and revelation. If this world is to approach a realization of the greater and more abundant life it must open its eyes to the demands and teachings of true Christianity.

Christianity means freedom not only for the man who practices it but for the nation whose citizens proclaim and live it. A nation can demonstrate and put into practice only as much of the truth taught by Jesus as is understood and known by its citizenry, and until a full and clear sense of the teachings of Jesus as outlined in Christian Science is understood by men there can be no full, complete, and satisfactory example of true democratic government. In Christianity as outlined by Jesus, the only limitations that reveal themselves to the earnest and honest student are those limitations which prohibit and penalize acts of moral turpitude on the part of men and nations. There is nothing in all the teachings of the Master that would justify the regimentation, supervision, and control of one individual human mind by another individual human mind. There is nothing in the moral law—and the moral law must be the law of all nations sooner or later—that prevents a man from making a mistake. Men are as often taught and instructed by their mistakes as they are by their successes, and to deprive an individual of the lessons and benefits of his own mistakes by legislative enactment which imposes upon him the whims and theories of some other individual just as capable of being mistaken, is taking the Christ out of the democratic order. Every man should be free to conduct his affairs from the standpoint of his own individual demonstration and communion with God and anything that takes away that right is unchristian and undemocratic. Human regimentation, restriction, and planning whereby one individual becomes the tool and victim of another's idea of how the victim should govern himself, leaves God out of the question completely and places one human consciousness under the control of another human consciousness.

The Christian nations of the world are now united in one stupendous struggle to insure to humanity the security, the peace, and the freedom which the Christ always brings to those who love and obey the dictates of God. A nation at war is being waged that you and I may escape the horrors of a totalitarian order whereby governmental paternalism is substituted for individual independence and freedom.

A mighty war is being fought, and you and I may conduct our affairs according to the dictates of our own conscience. A war is being fought that men may worship the God of their own choosing without the interference of state or ecclesiastical authority. A war is being fought that men may sow, reap, and harvest as God may direct and not at the instance of bureaucratic dictation. A war is being fought that labor and industry may enjoy the fruits of their own efforts and that one shall not become the victim of the other. A war is being fought that will insure the profits of righteous effort without the threat of confiscatory statutes. A war is being fought to insure to all mankind the benefits of individual initiative and endeavor. A war is being fought that the vision of the Puritan fathers may again possess the consciousness of men and that the state may reassume its position as a creature of the people, rather than that the people become the vassals and pawns of the state. God grant that this war be not fought in vain.

God and Individual Salvation

To bring God into the affairs of men as a divine, operating force and influence it must be realized that God is not a localized, materialized, or personified being. It must be recognized that God is Mind, divine Mind, or, in other words, divine intelligence. A mind, rather than that the people become the vassals and pawns of the state, God grant that this war be not fought in vain.

Now, the consciousness which is responsible for and is cognizant of our world of materiality, St. Paul tells us, is carnal. Consciousness is either carnal or divine. You and I, for instance, in our thinking, express one of two things. We express either the carnal or the divine. Either the carnal or divine must dominate individual thought. If the carnal dominates our thinking, and it must be at our own volition if it does so, the consciousness is a material sense of universe. If the divine dominates individual thought, the result is a spiritual universe and a spiritual existence. Inasmuch as you and I seem to be living in a material body and a material world with material surroundings, it is but logical to conclude that the carnal dominates our thinking. Christianity, as explained through Christian Science, is for the purpose of providing a conscious foundation whereby we can change our thinking from the material to the spiritual in a full and comprehensive manner and thus relieve ourselves of the material bondage which our own wrong thinking imposes.

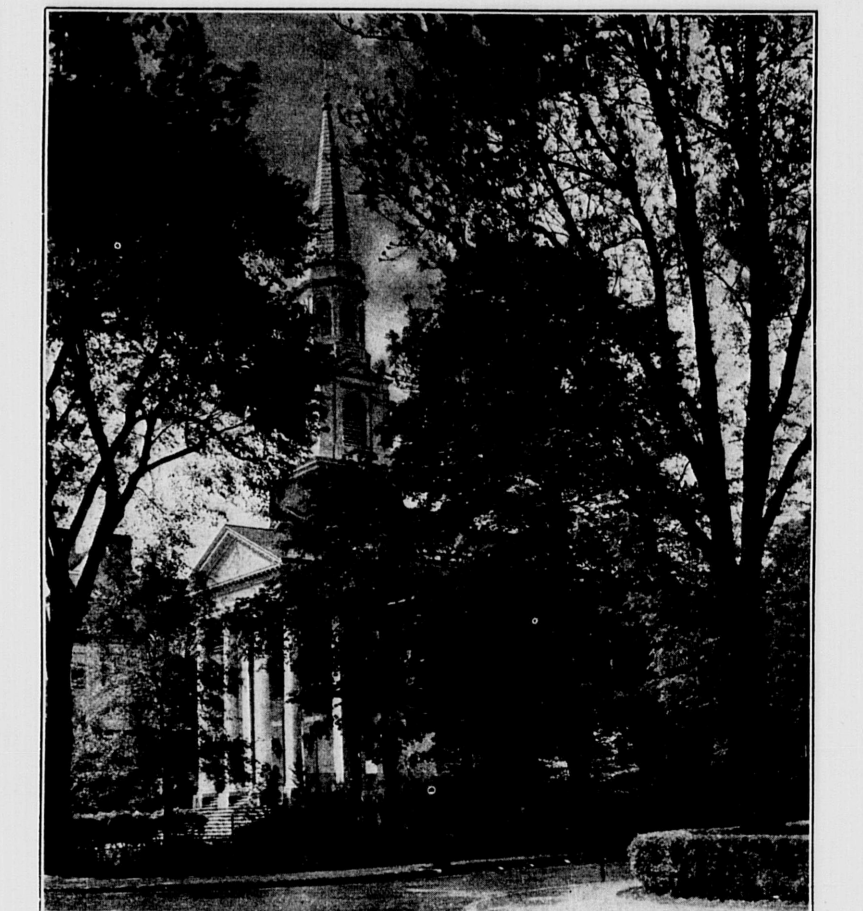

As consciousness is individual, the manifestations of consciousness must be individual. If one's world is included in individual consciousness, it necessarily follows that one's salvation from the bondage of a material existence, with all the problems this involves, must be individual and must lie in individual consciousness. If the carnal in our thinking is responsible for our alsensiveness and an ability to exceed their ordinary capacity. The human mind, imbued with this spiritual understanding, becomes more elastic is capable of greater endurance, escapes somewhat from itself, and acquires less repose. A knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity."

What a foresight of human freedom and divine care this message brings to mortals! What the understanding of God means to the man of business is equally available to you and me in whatever position we may find ourselves. It is equally applicable to the statesman and diplomat upon whom must rest the burdens and responsibility of post-war reconstruction and rehabilitation. Needless to say that without this God-bestowed ability, perspicacity, and judgment any negotiations looking to a postwar order will be in grave danger of selfish influences. Let us all pray daily that this Christ, this fuller and demonstrable understanding of God in the human consciousness, will sit at each conference table in the momentous negotiations which confront us and that no element of injustice, unrighteousness, greed, selfishness, reprisal, or hate will be present there.

Sin Its Own Executioner

And in connection with negotiations and deliberations looking to a righteous and lasting peace it might be well to weigh, to some extent, the application of the divine law of justice to malefactors. Sin brings punishment just as certainly as purity and holiness bring joy and peace and happiness, and for a sinner to escape punishment would not be in accord with the law of God. God knows no sin, to be sure, but as sin is its own worst enemy, sin, itself, punishes sin. As goodness brings its own reward, so sin imposes its own penalties and, therefore, for the sinner to escape punishment would not be in accord with Principle. In "Science and Health" Mrs. Eddy has written (p. 385): "Let us remember that the eternal law of right, though it can never annul the law which makes sin its own executioner, exempts man from all penalties but those due for wrong-doing." On page 36 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy again writes: "To remit the penalty due for sin, would be for Truth to pardon error. Escape from punishment is not in accordance with God's government, since justice is the handmaid of mercy." On page 37 of the same book she says: "Does not Science show that sin brings suffering as much to-day as yesterday? They who sin must suffer. With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again." On pages 10 and 11 of Science and Health we find the following: "Do you ask wisdom to be merciful and punish sin? Then ye ask amiss. Without punishment, sin would multiply."

Now, these statements by Mrs. Eddy do not express simply a human opinion as to sin and its punishment. They are expressions of an inviolable law of God. If a man be-he is subject to that law which says that sin must be punished. And man never escapes from that law until he ceases to sin. So you see there is no cheating in the divine order of just compensation either for sin or for righteousness.

The Reward of Righteousness

Just as sin and the sinner are one, so righteousness and God's law of just compensation are one and inseparable. Righteousness brings its own reward. The reward accompanies the motive or the act. For that reason the inexorable law of God brings reward to the righteous just as sin brings penalty to the sinner. The reward of righteousness accompanies the act or the consciousness of righteousness. The consciousness of right and the reward are one.

The rewards of righteousness do not constitute the objectives for which the Christian strives. Righteousness, itself, is his goal, because he knows that the rewards thereof are inevitable and assured. This is most definitely and clearly assured us in the twenty-second chapter of Revelation where we read: "And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last." A Christian Scientist is interested only in demonstrating righteousness. Righteousness brings its own reward.

Examples

Many times in the career of Jesus he brought to the attention of his students and patients the fact that their suffering was but the penalty incurred by their own wrong thinking. On more than one occasion he said to those whom he had healed of some physical difficulty, "Go, and sin no more." The emphasis was not only the fact that their physical condition was the result of their sin, but which also emphasized the fact that, while he could heal them of their present difficulty, their future freedom from the same or some other disorder depended upon their own willingness to refrain from sin. Sin, in its last analysis, is always mental. A thief has to think his deed before he can accomplish it. The scientific fact that one ceases to become the victim of sin and the penalty due therefor the moment he ceases to sin, in consciousness, to sin, removes the fear of eternal punishment with which some mortals struggle and thus does the past bury itself in itself. Without the fear of penalty for sins outgrown and abandoned one is free to soar in the fetherless realm of infinite spiritual consciousness without the earth weights of guilt and remorse as constant hindrances.

One of the most faithful companions and followers of Jesus was Mary Magdalene. Her spiritual reformation so completely released her from the burden of past sins and the fear of punishment therefor that her example of Christian purity has for centuries been a guiding light to many a weary and discouraged soul who has found peace and comfort in her example. St. Paul's conversion to the Christian faith after his cruel and vengeful perse-of God as divine Mind, or consciousness, which the man of God's erring expresses and reflects. St. Paul refers to that Mind which was in Christ Jesus, implying that the animating influence of the Master was divine Mind, or God. All that we have had to suffer from sin and its punishment has to do with that opposite so-called mind which St. Paul terms the carnal. Thinking constitutes one's consciousness. The entertainment of carnal thoughts in the human consciousness results in sin, and, contrarily, the entertainment of divine ideas in the human consciousness has its manifestation in righteousness. More sin lies in individual consciousness, or thinking, than in what the world calls overt acts. An overt act is the external or outward manifestation of thought—good or bad. The source of crime and corruption finding expression in overt acts is usually easily traceable, but the source of crime and confusion resulting from mental manipulation or the projection and direction of thought through the operation of the carnal in the human consciousness is not readily discernible. Therein lies its subtlety and danger.

In fact, the most prolific source of crime and criminal influences of present times lies in hidden and secret mental manipulation on the part of individuals and organizations. Throughout the world many schools of instruction are teaching the use of mental power to influence the thought and actions of men and nations. And any country or nation on the face of the globe that thinks to avoid the influence without the positive and practical use of Christianity as taught by Jesus will find itself quite unable to escape the snares and pitfalls of these occult methods. Writing and warning of this perilous influence of hidden and occult manipulation, Mrs. Eddy says, in "Science and Health" (p. 570): "The march of mind and of honest investigation will bring the hour when the people will be chained with fetters of some sort, the growing occultism of this period. The present anomaly as to the tendency of certain active yet unseen mental agencies will finally be shocked into another extreme mortal mood,—into human indignation; for one extreme follows another."

The Anti-Christ of Regimentation and Restriction

Now, of all times, should men and nations not only become aware of the dangers of this mental method of secret and unseen manipulation and influence but most of all should they become aware that the only remedy or instrument of protection from such influences lies in the teachings and practice of true Christianity as expounded in Christian Science. Too long has the leged material world with all of its sin, its sickness, its poverty and unhappiness, naturally the carnal, itself, could not include the remedy for any of our problems. Only the opposite of the carnal could reverse the creations of the carnal. The divine Mind, or God, admitted to individual consciousness, is the only remedy for matter and its problems. If matter were not a mental phenomenon, and an erroneous mental phenomenon at that, all the power in the world could not heal the sick or reclaim the sinner, but when it is realized that matter is the manifestation of wrong thinking, it can readily be seen that matter, with all of its problems, can be changed and corrected by right thinking. And this right thinking, this substitution of the divine in individual consciousness for the carnal, is true prayer.

When existence becomes too materially complicated and the problems of human living crowd in on the individual, he has, relatively speaking, the choice of replacing the carnal in consciousness with the divine. The divine which unfolds to consciousness comes direct from God, or divine Mind or intelligence, and constitutes the Christ. Through the influx of the divine, or the Christ, into consciousness the arguments of limitation, restriction, localization, sickness, and poverty are met and destroyed. To divest the carnal of any sense of reality, power, authority, or influence one must realize that it was never created of God. It is not much comfort or relief to be had through the mental process of belittling the carnal mind and at the same time fearing it or being unable satisfactorily to explain to oneself its counterfeit nature.

You and I do not need to protect ourselves from a carnal mind. All we need to do is to protect ourselves from our own belief in a carnal mind. In "Science and Health" (p. 197) Mrs. Eddy says, "The beliefs of the human mind rob and enslave it." Thus we find that the only penalties there are to the belief of a carnal, or material, existence are the penalties which the human consciousness imposes to its own misconceptions, and thus does individual material existence resolve itself into a state of self-hypnosis, or self-mesmerism. So, all that has to be healed in handling any problem of inharmoniousness in the carnal mind but, rather, the human belief in a carnal mind, or a mind opposed to God. With the carnal mind relegated to the realm of illusion, it is not difficult to see how the manifestations of the carnal mind—sickness, inharmoniousness, and the like—are destroyed through the influence of the divine Mind, or God, in consciousness.

The Christ

In "Science and Health" Mrs. Eddy writes (p. 271): "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God." This "chain of scientific being," reappearing in all ages, is the Christ operative in the human consciousness; and while, for periods, it may have been obscured from human perception by the pretenses of idolatry, false theology, ritualism, form, and ceremony, yet down the long corridors of time the golden "chain" of Truth has been guiding and shaping the destinies of men and will ever continue to do so until the last vestige of materiality and sin disappears and the kingdom of heaven is realized.

The Christ is the truth about God and man which comes to the human consciousness to bring peace, comfort, and assurance to the world-weary, the sick, and the sinning. The Christ, like God, has existed throughout all time and has guided the human race from the lowest plane of human thought up through the dark clouds of material thinking to its present mental and spiritual state. The Christ comes to your consciousness and to mine as divine or pure ideas enlightening our paths and giving us that strength of Spirit which knows no opposition and which turns every trial of our faith into a spiritual triumph.

Mrs. Eddy tells us in "Science and Health" (p. 583): "is 'the divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error.' As a sense of flesh, or a corporeal existence, lies wholly in the human consciousness, when the Christ enters the human consciousness it is, of necessity, comes to the flesh. It is incarnate error, or the errors which seem to have become a part of material existence, destroyed. When error is destroyed in the human consciousness it is destroyed in the flesh, because the human consciousness and the flesh are one. The Christ, entering the human consciousness, as divine or pure ideas, unless God and man in one holy bond. This is so beautifully and precisely explained by Mrs. Eddy where she says in "Science and Health" (p. 581): "John saw the human and divine clonicle, shown in the man Jesus, as divinity embracing humanity in life and its demonstration,—reducing to human perception and understanding the Life which is God. In divine revelation, material and corporeal selfhood disappear, and the spiritual idea is understood." The spiritual idea is the Christ.

The Christ, which was so forcefully and consistently explained and demonstrated by Jesus in the few brief years of his earthly career, constitutes that golden thread of truth which is spun throughout the fabric of all Bible history and which appears in all ages to lift man thought to loftier and holier heights. The Christ is that which uttered itself to Noah warning him of dangers to come and preparing him for safety. The Christ is that which guided the children of Israel for forty years in the desert of human hopes and despair and brought them at length to the promised land of peace and plenty. The same Christ that held back the waters of the Red Sea that the Israelites might pass through on dry land enabled Jesus, centuries later, to walk the waves, still the tempest, and calm the troubled waters. The same Christ that furnished the manna in the wilderness enabled Jesus to feed the multitude on the shore of the Galilee sea. That Christ is here today standing at the threshold of every human consciousness awaiting admission. Through it the sick are healed, the sorrowing comforted, and the sinner is released from the bondage of his own pitiful misconceptions.

To quote once more from "Science and Health," where Mrs. Eddy has written (p. 224): "A higher and more practical Christianity, demonstrating justice and meeting the needs of mortals in sickness and in health, stands at the door of this age, knocking for admission. Will you open or close the door upon this angelic visitor, who cometh in the quiet of meekness, as he came of old to the patriarch at noonday?"

NEWTON RED CROSS WAR FUND OVER $96,000 MARK

Fifteen Days More To Overscribe Quota--Individual Effort Needed

With 15 days still to go, the Newton Red Cross War Fund has passed the $96,810.70 mark, it is announced by Charles B. Floyd, 1944 chairman. "The returns to date have been very gratifying," said Mr. Floyd, "but the coverage is nowhere near complete. In order to put the drive over, every worker must get a contribution for everyone on her cards. The Special Gifts and Industrial Division will help us meet our quota, but it is up to the people of Newton to see to it that their Red Cross is always at his side."

The fund was swelled by a very generous check from L. J. Lishon of Newtonville, in gratitude for Red Cross aid to his son, Capt. Dexter Lishon of the 8th Air Force, now a prisoner of war in a German camp. Mr. Lishon wrote, "I have been made even more conscious this year of the wonderful work being done by your organization, due to the fact that my son is now a prisoner of war in Germany, and he has mentioned again and again in his letters that it was because of the efforts of the Red Cross that life in the prison camps has been made livable."

Auburndale Church Group Contributes

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Centenary Methodist Church in Auburndale sent a large contribution to the War Fund as "our tribute to the boys in the service who have gone from this church." Mrs. Blanche Harvey, treasurer of the group, said that they had decided to give a certain amount but after hearing a member of the Newton speaker's bureau tell of the work being done by the Red Cross for the members of the armed forces, the sum was doubled.

City Leases Land To War Dept.

The City of Newton has made a lease to the War Department approximately half of the land on Needham st., Newton Upper Falls, formerly occupied by the plant of the Masten & Wells Fireworks Manufacturing Company.

The land adjoins the former plant of the Saco-Lowell Company now occupied by Army Engineers Corps and will be used for storage purposes by the latter.

The land to be leased contains about 3 1/2 acres and the rental price will be approximately equal to the taxes which would be assessed if the land were privately owned. The size is to be leased for the duration of the war and six months thereafter. The city acquired the property of the fireworks concern by foreclosure last year.

The plant of the Engineer Corps on Needham st. is used largely for the repair and renovation of tractors, trucks, bulldozers and other road equipment.

The final negotiations for the rental of the land to the War Department are being made by City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett under instructions from Mayor Paul M. Goddard and by authority of the Board of Aldermen.

BENJAMIN MURRAY LEASE

Benjamin Murray Lease of 206 West Thirteenth st., New York City, a member of the firm of Bigham, Engler, Jones and Houston, died suddenly of pneumonia at St. Luke's Hospital, New York. He was born in St. Louis, Mo., and was in his 42nd year.

Mr. Lease was graduated in 1924 from Brown University where he was a member of the University's water polo and swimming teams. He received his law degree from the Harvard University Law School in 1929. He was a member of the Sons of the Revolution, an ex-member of the Association of Squadron A and of Delta Kappa Epsilon Clubs, a member of the Brown Club of New York City and D. K. E.

He is survived by his wife, the former Alice McLaughlin, daughter of Mrs. Cordelia McLaughlin of 15 Warwick rd., West Newton, and sister of Daniel E. McLaughlin of West Newton and Capt. Edmund F. McLaughlin of Fort Myles, Delaware; his mother, Mrs. Carrie Essex Lease, a sister, Miss Marjorie Lease of Hudson View Gardens, and a brother, Dr. Raymond E. Lease of Oyster Bay, L. I. His father, Dr. Emory Bair Lease who was associate professor of Latin at City College, died in 1931.

Funeral services were held March 9 at the Collegiate Church, Washington Heights, New York City. Burial was in Kensico Cemetery, New York.

DRAFTED MEN'S PUBLIC FORUM ON REAL ESTATE

Drafted men who own real estate in the Newtons will receive competent legal advice as to their rights and obligations under the real estate section of the Soldiers and Sailors Relief Act, during the question period to be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Wednesday evening, March 22nd, in the conference rooms of the Carley Realty at 1171 Washington st., West Newton, near the State Army building.

For the guidance of interested men, well-qualified experts are contributing their time and knowledge in hope that their advice may assist the draftees in adjusting themselves to the change in circumstances which their military service may bring to them. Should they sell or rent or maintain their homes for their families?

On hand to answer such questions without charge and to outline the scope of the legal protection afforded to our men in service under the real estate aspects of the Soldiers and Sailors Relief Act will be Marshall R. Pihl, General Counsel of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, who is the author of an article on this subject which has been very popular among members of the legal profession.

Also present in the spirit of public service will be Walter F. Slattery, approved Title Attorney for the Home Owners Loan Corporation, and Rupert C. Thompson, Secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, to give practical advice.

Other attorneys, bank employees and any members of civic organizations who may wish to secure a clear-cut picture of what this act means to our boys are cordially welcome to enable them to pass along the facts to those who may seek their advice. This is a real opportunity to secure worthwhile opinions and clear up any uncertainties in the minds of service men.

Dr. Clark Speaker At Aid Association Monthly Meeting

Dr. Frank R. Clark, Newtonville, Chief of Staff of the Newton Hospital, was the speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association in the parlors of the Nurses Home, Tuesday morning, Mar. 14. Speaking on the Obstetrical Department of the hospital and of the changes that have evolved since 1918, he gave a very interesting and enlightening resume. In 1916 only 15 per cent of the babies born in Newton and Wellesley were hospital births. In 1943 all but 7 of the 1110 babies born in the two cities were born in hospitals. An interesting sidelight of the births in 1943 was that of the 1110 infants, 618 were boys and 492 were girls and there were nine sets of twins born in Newton Hospital in 1941, nine in 1942 and 10 in 1943.

Mrs. Theron B. Walker, President of the Hospital Aid Association, presided at the 10:30 meeting and introduced Dr. Clark. She announced the standing committees for the year as: Mrs. Marjorie Butts, chairman of the purchasing committee; Mrs. Henry F. Keever, chairman of the patient bed committee; Mrs. Brewster Eddy and Mrs. Ralph Conant, co-chairmen of the benefit shop; Mrs. Walter McGill, chairman of the coffee shop committee; Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsback of the publicity committee; Miss Madeline Cobb, by-laws; and Mrs. Gordon B. Wilkes, nominating.

Mrs. Frank Clark, chairman of tickets for the Dessert Bridge and Fashion Show to be held in the Nurses Home, May 9th, announced that the tickets were in the hands of chairmen in each of the Newtons and Wellesley. Mrs. Francis Williams gave a report of the Benefit Shop and reminded members that "the shop sells things if you give them to us to sell." Mrs. Walter McGill reported on the newest venture of the aid the Coffee and Gift Shop located in the old operating building of the hospital. Over 60,000 customers have frequented the shop since its opening Aug. 1st. Staffed with 15 volunteers a day, from each village and Wellesley, the shop has already proved its worth and convenience to hospital personnel, patients and guests. Mrs. Arthur Shaw gave a comprehensive review of her recent visit to the hospital with Gerhard Hartman, Superintendent as her guide.

Miss Maida Flanders and Mrs. H. F. Wells were hostesses for coffee and doughnuts served at the close of the meeting.

AWARDED DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS

Staff Sgt. Paul R. Cavanaugh, 22, son of Mrs. Bridget Cavanaugh of 717 Washington st., Newtonville, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal and two Oak Leaf Clusters. He has completed 25 bombing missions over Europe as flight engineer and gunner on a Flying Fortress, and in a letter written to his mother stated that he is ready to start on the next 25.

Sgt. Cavanaugh attended our Lady's High School, Newton, and St. Mary's High School, Waltham. Before entering the Army on July 29, 1942, he had been employed at the Raytheon Mfg. Co. On July 21, 1943, just before going overseas, he was married to Miss Pearl C. Ziegler of Shreveport, La.

He has a brother, Walter J. Highland Glee Club In Concert

The Highland Glee Club of Newton, Inc. gave the 78th concert of their 37th season on Tuesday evening, March 14, in the auditorium of the Newton High School. The concert was under the direction of D. Ralph Maclean with James Gray as accompanist. Assisting artists were Kathryn Ford, composer and pianist, Olive Appleton, soprano and Harry D. Newcombe, baritone.

Mrs. Ford is well-known by many people in the Newtons. She presented her own composition, "The Four Winds." The graphic beauty of the "Four Winds" depicting the moods of the varying winds was well received. Mrs. Ford's music is of the modern school.

Two years ago the Club started an innovation by presenting a Gilbert and Sullivan "review," and last year continued with compositions by Victor Herbert. This year the Club presented works by the great Viennese composer, Sigismund Romberg. The gaiety and beauty of these Strauss-like pieces, taken from his various operettas, and their familiarity to most music lovers, pleased the large audience. Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe (Olive Appleton) again as joint soloists, were indeed a compliment to the Club voices.

As in all other Clubs the war has depleted the membership. The following are members serving in the Armed Forces: Philip M. Andrews, Henry E. Bankart, Jr., Robert C. Bankart, Clarence O. Bedient, Roswell K. Doughty, Prescott Downer, Joseph W. Limerick, Walter K. Mitchell, Jr., Frederick P. Moran, Thomas W. Peirce, Ira S. Pigeon, M.D., W. Fredric Provost, John B. Richmond, Walter B. Robinson, Howard E. Rummel, James F. Sherman, Laurence M. Smith, Rollin C. Smith, Harry M. Stoddley, Jr., and Walter M. Taylor.

CARL S. ELL

Rev. Hamilton Gifford, Pastor of the Newtonville Methodist Church, will speak on "A New Earth" at 11 o'clock on Sunday, March 26, in a highlight of that day's program.

Kiwanis Activities

Newton Kiwanis inducted Robbie Robertson, a former charter member of the Quincy Club, into membership in the local chapter last Tuesday noon. Ben Louis extended the official welcome in behalf of the Membership Committee.

Club members were reminded by Pete Pettengill of the Penny Sale to be held next Tuesday evening, Mar. 21, at the "Y." There will be no noon meeting.

Archie Bellinger, member of the local club, invited Kiwanis to meet in his rooms on Centre ave. for a buffet luncheon on Tuesday noon, March 28, and to enjoy an after dinner speaker in the chapel.

Doctor Sumer, president of the Roslindale Club, was present with several other members and explained that they were hoping to visit all fifty district clubs in the near future.

President George Van Buskirk spoke in behalf of the 100 per cent attendance goal for April.

Bill Jasset then introduced Mr. John Brennan of the General Motors Company, who proceeded to project a motion picture produced by General Motors entitled "America Can Give It." Walter Houston, Quentin Reynolds, and Lowell Thomas are the narrators in the picture. This movie portrays the American child as the luckiest child in the world, because he lives in a democracy; and emphasizes the fact that Americans as a rule do not realize how fortunate they are to be Americans. The fact that the American people have enjoyed too easy a life for too long a time almost resulted in their failure to mobilize for the present war in time to be effective. The film showed the change in the American attitude from one of complacency to that of action, particularly after Pearl Harbor. The scenes had to do with the necessity for unity on the part of the American people.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 15, 1889
The people have learned with great regret of the resignation of Rev. H. L. Wheeler, pastor of the Unitarian Church, Newton Centre, who has made many warm friends here, both in and outside of his parish, where his labors have been very successful.

The watering cart would have been a great blessing this week for all who had occasion to encounter the clouds of dust.

The decoration of the interior of the Eliot Church building is nearly completed and the staging is being removed. One of the large chandeliers has been put in place, and one of the large memorial windows will be put in during the coming week. The decorating is being done by L. Haberstroh & Son of 9 Park st., Boston.

Miss Annie A. Cushman (West Newton) has a delightful studio in the new Park Building, corner of Park sq. and Boylston st., Boston. There are some lovely water color sketches of Newton scenery among her recent work.

A prominent business man of Newton Centre went to Boston this week for the first time since January, which shows what a great business center we have become.

50 YEARS AGO

The floor plan for the new Methodist Church, Newton, has been decided upon, that furnished by Cram, Wentworth & Goodhue having been chosen, but the plans for the exterior of the church are not yet fully decided upon.

A shorthand class will be formed at the Y. M. C. A. immediately under the instruction of Prof. Gregg of Boston. Any desiring instruction in this class may obtain it free.

A corps of engineers have been engaged during the past 2 days in making the preliminary surveys for the depression of the tracks of the B. & A. Railroad. The territory considered in the surveys is along the present roadbed from a point a little west of the Faneuil station in Brighton, to the Rowe st. crossing at Auburndale.

The annual reception and dance of the senior class of the high school was held in the drill hall, last Friday evening. Nearly 300 members of the graduating class, alumni of the school and guests were present and the affair was one of the most charming of the season.

Houghton & Dutton, Boston, are opening a boot and shoe store in Central Block, West Newton.

Surveys have been at work the past week for purpose of widening Washington st. along the hill on the Volleyside side. It is a possibility that the work may continue here in places where the street is very narrow.

The appeal of the Red Cross for old clothing to be sent across the water should meet with the heartiest kind of response from the city. Do it now!

Taxpayers will be interested in the budget just adopted by the city government, for it carries with it, on the basis of 1918 valuations, an increase in the tax rate of about $3.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By F. W. C.

The Vice-Presidency

This week I would like to have my readers give some thought to the question of the Vice-Presidency, an office which nine people out of ten doubtless regard as relatively unimportant. To be sure, the only constitutional function of the Vice-President is to preside over the august deliberations of the United States Senate. However, times have changed and Mr. Roosevelt saw fit to give his running-mate, Hon. Henry O. Wallace, a number of exceedingly important assignments, which resulted in temporarily increasing the prestige of the second highest office in the country. To be sure, Mr. Wallace no longer wields these additional powers, but he retains considerable influence, both inside and outside the administration. In this connection, it is worthy of note that a recent poll revealed Mr. Wallace running far ahead of other potential candidates for the Vice-Presidential nomination in the Democratic party. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, was a poor second.

Now, let us consider for a moment the significance, if any, of this poll. Generally speaking, Mr. Wallace has been anything but a popular success as Vice-President, even within his own party. He was shoved down the throats of the delegates at the 1940 Democratic convention as the direct result of Mr. Roosevelt's personal wishes. He is NOT a typical Democrat and nobody knows this better than the Democrats themselves. He was unable to carry even his own state for his chief in 1940 and New England has always been bitter against him on account of his unflinching slurs on this entire section several years ago. How, therefore, can we account for his strength in this recent poll? Also, how account for Mr. Hull's strength, when everybody who follows national affairs at all is aware of the fact that Mr. Hull is practically an old man today and has been forced to be away from his desk for weeks at a time? Grave fears were expressed that he would never survive the ordeal of that Russian trip. All credit to the man for his courage, spirit and loyalty. Practical politics, however, certainly do not warrant any very serious consideration of his availability for the Vice-Presidency during the next four crucial, soul-testing years.

Looking at this proposition from a cold-blooded standpoint, does it not seem likely that the President will make every effort to secure a fourth-term running-mate who is in the prime of life, who is relatively conservative and who will bolster up the weaker side of the current administration? On this basis, both Mr. Wallace and Mr. Hull are ruled out immediately. Who would fit into the picture? What about the Under-Secretary of State, Ed Stettinius, who is, according to Drew Pearson, "an active bidder for the job." Perhaps, when his mission to England is completed we shall have a better opportunity to appraise his chances. Offhand, he seems to this observer to have a great many strong qualifications. What about the famous Bostonian of earlier years, Joe Kennedy, one of the very smartest business men in the United States? Would he not serve to attract conservative business interests, now skeptical, to put it mildly, concerning the conduct of governmental affairs? How about Senator Truman of Missouri, head of the justly famous Truman Committee or Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, an eminently practical, hard-headed statesman, who is just as anxious to balance the federal budget as Republican Senator Taft of Ohio? Then, too, we have Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House and Majority Leader Albert Barkley of the Senate. Barkley made a big political splash a short time ago, when he publicly rebuked the President and got away with it. What the long-pull effect of that incident will be remains to be seen.

Two final thoughts. The Vice-Presidential set-up would, of course, be completely scrambled overnight if Mr. Roosevelt should decide to retire from office. Most of the men listed above would immediately erect their lightning-rods for the Presidency. Secondly, I suggest that even F. D. R.'s bitterest opponents should give him credit for wishing to carry into office with him a strong, well-balanced man of affairs who could, in the event of the President's enforced withdrawal AFTER election, due to ill health, or other cause, carry on the duties and responsibilities of the highest office in the land.

Briker and Burton
Ohio has been very much in the limelight during the past few days. Governor John W. Briker has come and gone and given an excellent example of the Alphonse and Gaston act with our own Governor Saltonstall. Each man was graciousness and sportsmanship personified.

Once again, Bill Cunningham has given a powerful boost to Senator Harold Burton, the former Newtonian, as an extremely powerful dark-horse to watch during the coming months. Bill is dead right, in my humble opinion.

Equal in Calories

Butter and peanut butter are about the same in calories with butter a little ahead, and butter contains almost twice as much fat as peanut butter.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

Last November, in behalf of the Army Base, we asked the people of Newton for magazines, books, games, puzzles, etc., for the troops going overseas. The response to that appeal has been good. Several thousands of articles have been received and sent to the base. The need of our soldiers for reading matter and other entertainment during the voyage is acute. We can use a great deal more material.

Any one wishing to assist in this work will please leave contributions at the Parish House of St. John's Episcopal Church, Lowell ave., corner Otis st., a central station for the City of Newton. Enter by door at end of boardwalk on Lowell ave.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Matter," and included in the Scriptural selections is: "Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain: And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it" (Isaiah 40:4, 5).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The doom of matter establishes the conclusion that matter, slime, or protoplasm never originated in the immortal Mind, and is therefore not eternal. program destined to help the war effort here—plus carrying on the Order's many projects in behalf of the service man. The Elks' War Commission is carrying on an entertainment program for all service men in the armed forces and is also providing Fraternal Centers where enlisted men can find convenient, comfortable and enjoyable club facilities. The Elks book campaign has provided thousands of books to fill the shelves of the newly opened Fraternal Center in New York and the slipper campaign, sponsored by the Massachusetts Elks Association, has resulted in thousands of slippers being made and given to the various hospitals for the veterans of this war who are confined for treatment.

—HOMEFRONT DANGERS—
Captain John Cimaglia, 934 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, a flight pilot with 88 missions in Africa, Sicily and Italy behind him, came home so's to enjoy a furlough, recently, and as a result, is now a patient in the Lovell General Hospital, Fort Devens. An automobile accident suffered in this land of comparative safety accomplished the ruin of the flyer's leave. Capt. Cimaglia holds the Air Medal and nine Oak Leaf Clusters and the RAF Medal.

—BOMBERS—
Stories concerning the bombers and their heroic young crews fascinate everybody here. There's a pulse-stirring thrill in the very thought of those iron nerved, courageous youngsters who roar their way through the stormy violence of the stratosphere, as the great ships bore a path through the frigid dark to blast the vitals out of Naziland's war industries.
Bob Burns, Sr., of Lombard st., had an extra thrill, or more likely, an added heartache, last Thursday, when gazing at a picture on the front page of a Boston newspaper, he recognized among a group of young flyers about to leave for Berlin, the face of his own son, T/S Tom Burns, smiling out at him. The success of that mission was, as yet, unknown, which added little to the father's peace of mind. Three other sons wear Uncle Sam's khaki, Bomber Sgt., Bill, now a prisoner of the Germans; Leo, in the Air Force in this country and Bob, Jr., a lieutenant with an armored division, somewhere in the European Theatre.

$40,696 FOR RED CROSS IN FIRST WEEK
Charles B. Floyd, chairman of the Newton Red Cross War Fund, reports $40,696 returns for the first week of the campaign to raise $170,000, 48 per cent more than last year, the major portion of which will be used for service to the armed forces.
Many people are contributing who have never done so before, and we are finding increases in many gifts. However, if we are to make our quota, we must continue to step up the contributions at least 50 per cent over last year in the residential division—and we must meet our quota to keep the Red Cross at his side all over the world."

IS ONE OF THESE A.P.O. NUMBERS YOURS?
In a recent letter from Chaplain John Shade Franklin, 164th Inf., A.P.O., San Francisco, he asks: "Do you know of any man whose post office number is 706 453, or 37 from our area in Middlesex County?"
If your A.P.O. number is one of the above, get in touch with Chaplain Franklin. He's a good scout.

One of the elderly locals, a devout member of the Church, expressed great satisfaction during a recent conversation, over the fact that letters from his boys (5), overseas, indicated they were becoming increasingly aware of God. His Church and the Hereafter. It was a source of happiness, he declared, to know that "his kids" were leading lives of righteousness, despite the handicaps, out there in the land where the sun comes up.
He wasn't aware of their reasons, perhaps, or maybe he just didn't give such thought to what extent the solitude and the opportunity to meditate, plus the awareness of ever-present danger, will affect a man's philosophy of life and the manner in which it should be carried on. The picture in its proper focus, is only another bit of evidence that the mills of the Gods are still turning and grinding every bit as fine as in the days of '17 and '18, when the veterans of that one summed up the situation in very few words, "the admission that there were no atheists in the fox holes. They discovered then, as the warriors of this one have found now, that life takes on a different hue when all the chips are down and you're in there playing for keeps.

We take pride in the part that the Newton Kiwanis Club has played in sponsoring and issuing "What's Cookin' in Newton," in co-operation with the Newton Rotary Club as co-sponsor. This is the 8th issue. We started with 543 addresses and have now reached a high of 757. Each day more names are added to this roll of members in the armed forces overseas.
May we assure you that this time that everything on the home-front is in full gear. Theatres, banks and stores are working day and night issuing War Bonds. Volunteers, from every community, are co-operating with the Newton Red Cross, in putting over this (Continued on page 4)

CHINS UP

"Two men look out from prison bars.
The one sees mud, the other stars."
Why "mud," why "stars," when side by side?
With me, I'm sure you'll soon decide.
If mud you'd choose, or stars
you'd win,
Just mark the angle of the chin.

Chins up, for stars of hope, and trust;
Chins down, for fifth, and greed,
and lust;
Chins up, skies both bright and clear;
Chins down, for sin and shame,
and fear.
Chins up, for courage, faith and love;
Chins down, for groveling in the mud.

Just what you see depends always
Not where stand, but how you gaze.
The "upward look" may never show;
The "downward look" may never know;
So, like the man behind the bars—
Look up, and see the glorious stars!

PROF. EINSTEIN GETS HELP ON INCOME TAX RETURN

Everybody has had a merry time with their Federal Income Tax Returns which had to be filed last Wednesday. The complicated forms made business for public accountants, tax experts and the like.

Professor Einstein the mathe-matician had to go to the Income Tax folks for help with his return. He said the questions asked in it should not be asked of a mathematician but of a philosopher.

ANNOUNCES LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS TO WAR BONDS FOR STALIN

So that Marshal Josef Stalin of Russia may know who his Newton benefactors are, the Newton War Finance Committee recently announced the list of contributors to the War Bonds recently sent as a gift to the Soviet leader in care of the Russian Embassy.
The gift was inspired and the fund started by Dorothy Thompson, columnist and authoress, at a War Bond rally in Newton last September as a token of admiration for the gallant struggle waged by the Russians against the Nazi invaders. More than $1,500 was contributed to the fund.

Each contributor has been notified that the bonds had been purchased and sent to the Russian Embassy.

ACTIVITY OF CONTRACTORS SHOWS DROP

Activities of contractors in Newton showed a substantial decrease this year, as compared with the latter part of 1943, the State Department of Labor and Industries reported recently.

The number of contractors having jobs in Newton dropped from 19 in December to 13 in February and the number of tradesmen employed fell from 128 to 90. The weekly total paid in wages decreased from $4,598 in December to $3,068 in January and the number of man-hours worked dropped from 3,602 to 2,608.

The same trend was evident in the State as a whole.

A new pumping engine to replace antiquated apparatus now in use will be purchased by the Newton Fire Department at a cost of $11,000.

An engine that is 27 years old and is equipped with only two wheel brakes will be placed in reuse is equipped with four-wheel brakes.

The new pumping engine will be assigned to Engine 4, Newton-ville, replacing a piece of apparatus that is 19 years old.

"FAMILY NEED" RAKED PAIR PLEADS GUILTY

Arraigned in Superior Court

After three weeks in jail in default of bail, Raymond J. Par-quette, 27, and his wife, Simone, 22, of Broughton ave., Lowell, who were arrested when they tried to defraud the Newton Red Cross by posing as a service family in need, pleaded guilty when arraigned in the Middlesex Superior Court to eight indictments of larceny, attempted larceny and conspiracy.
The case was continued for disposition until next Monday by Judge Francis J. Good.

At the time of their arrest last month, the couple, who have two children, admitted that they collected about $1,000 from Red Cross chapters in 15 cities and towns in Massachusetts and New Hampshire in little over a month by posing as a needy service family.

They were trapped when Mrs.
Parquette, while appealing to the Newton Red Cross for aid, gave an address on Waltham street that proved fictitious. Her husband and two children were found waiting for her in their car outside the Red Cross headquarters. They were taken into custody by Sgts.
Patrick J. King and Philip Purcell and Inspector Joseph B.
Lyons.

The Board of Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night granted a temporary third class license to deal in second-hand motor vehicles to the Nonantum Used Auto Parts, Inc., of West st., Newton.
This permit which covers a period of three months was given that the concern might dispose of their stock on hand and clean up the premises. The board previously refused to renew a third class license for this concern or to issue a junk license to them.

MORE THAN 100 INCORRECT ADDRESSES

Endeavoring to compile a complete record of Newton service men and women for future use in carrying on its functions, the Citizens' Advisory Committee for Returning Veterans has appealed to than 100 "next of kin" whom the reach by.

The committee has sent letters

SPORTS... in a Nutshell

Feb. 27—The Canadiens gave us a severe beating in Montreal 10-2 which almost eliminated us from the playoffs. The win gave the Canadiens 67 points and it looks like they will break the old Bruin record. The Bruins just could not keep those Canadiens from scoring. Guldin and Boll scored the goals for Boston Black Hawks beat the Maple Leafs 3-2.
Some race here between Chicago and Toronto.

March 1—The Bruins were slammed by Toronto 7-3 at the Garden Tuesday night. Toronto really turned on the heat in the second period scoring four goals.
Caldwell, Cowley and Guldin scored for Boston. Cowley figured in all goals scored.

March 3—Chicago defeated Boston 4-2 at Chicago Thursday night. Boston put up a great fight holding the Hawks to a tie entering the third period but lost out when Chicago scored twice in the final period. Egan and Caldwell scored for Boston.

March 5—Bill Cowley scoring four goals and two assists with Pat Egan who scored two goals and three assists led the Bruins to a 10-9 win over the Rangers. This game set a new modern National Hockey League Record for goals scored in one game, 19 goals were scored by Boston and New York.
March 5—Cowley has 62 points to his credit now just five points behind Herb Cain the high scorer for the Bruins. What a record he would have only for missing those fourteen games.

Three members Cain, Cowley and Dit Clapper are qualified for the award for the most valuable player on the Bruins team this year.

Canadiens scored their ninth straight victory beating Toronto
5-2. Detroit defeated Chicago 6-2.
March 6—Rangers held the Bruins to a 4-4 tie in New York Sunday night. Boston tried hard for the game as they need every point right now.

March 8—Bill Cowley was selected as the most valuable player of the Bruins this year and awarded the DuFresne Trophy which is given to the player whom the hockey sport writers vote as the most outstanding player of the year.
Detroit defeated Boston 8-4 new Toronto only has to win to make the playoffs. Bruins chances for playoffs grow slimmer every day.

March 13—The Bruins set the Canadiens back Sunday night when they plastered a 6-5 defeat on them. Pat Egan was all over the ice scoring two goals and one assist but the big honors went to Herb Cain for scoring a goal and an assist he tied the National League record of 73 made by our own Cooney Weiland and tied last year by Tony Bentley of Chicago.
Herb Cain has had a wonderful year and with three games left to play it looks like a cinch for Herb to break the scoring record.

Boy were those Canadiens mad.
They sure tried everything they could to beat Boston.

A COUNTRY FAIR

The War Relief Group of the Newton Community Club will sponsor a Country Fair, Friday, March 31st, at the home of Mrs. Arthur O'Rourke of 29 Converse ave., Newton, from 1 to 5:30 p.m.

The knitting and sewing division of this group has one ambition—to cover the beds of our disabled boys with bright colored knitted afghans. After visiting Fowler Hospital at Fort Devens and hearing first hand from the nurses there how much these variegated colored afghans do mean to the boys the group decided to inquire first hand into other hospitals and similar needs. We immediately found out through a group of men interested in the welfare of our boys that at Cushing Hospital, at Framingham, where boys are returning from southern area, there would be much appreciation for something warm to throw over the boys, because it is so hard for them to get acclimated to this temperature again.

Hearing of this need there has developed a group in New Jersey anxious to help the cause, because they know we will take the afghans personally to these hospitals and not depend on a middle man to do it. They have already contributed afghans and knitted 6 inch, 7 inch, and 8 inch squares and many articles for the sale hoping that the people in and around Newton will support the sale.

Also the third grade of Cabot School has made two afghans and started their third.

For people who cannot afford to buy their own wool, but are so willing to knit for these afghans we must have the means to purchase the wool, and so we conceived the idea of "A Country Fair."

Members of the group have written to friends all over the country and we have already received many contributions from 13 states.

Also this group has made a quilt of the Noregga pattern to be auctioned off. Between the Fair and quilt we do hope to realize several hundred dollars. Won't you people of Newton who are always so generous with your support for worthy causes please come to our Fair on March 31st?

HOTEL BEACONSFIELD NEWS

Mrs. W. Candler Bowditch, chairman of the Bundles for America, Brookline Branch, with headquarters in the Beaconsfield Hotel reports increased activity and interest in the work. Any person wishing to knit for the boys in the service, or to sew for the relief work which Bundles for America is sponsoring will be welcome. Volunteers are greatly needed for this kind of work.

An officer in the Armed Forces of our country arrived from overseas on a furlough. He met his fiancée down-town and they decided they would like to be married right away. He called the manager of the Hotel Beaconsfield in Brookline to arrange for a wedding party for a number of his friends. When the happy bride and groom, with their friends arrived just one and one-half hours later an attractive buffet was set up and ready for them, and a beautiful wedding cake

Still the greatest mother in the world!

EVERY year you have given to the Red Cross... willingly and with a free heart. You helped us help millions of people... when the floods struck... when the earthquakes came... when famine devastated some far-off land. It was your habit to give... the great proud habit of thirty million American families... proud that they could give... proud of the great Red Cross, that made the giving worthwhile.

But this year it is going to be different. When you dig into your pockets and purses it won't be just your "regular" contribution. For this year of global war the need is greater than it's ever been before.

And this year it is your own boys the Red Cross serves... Eleven million of them in every land from Sicily to Chungking... on every ocean and in every sky.

This year, when you cannot be near your sons, you will give generously and be glad that the Red Cross—your Red Cross—is still the greatest mother in the world.

This year, when the need is greater than ever before—this year you will want to give more... to give freely to your own Red Cross... to your own sons in the service.

So give—for this is the year when giving really hits home. Give for the boy who longs to be with you—give to your Red Cross which will reach him for you.

This time dig deep—deeper than ever before. Dig deep and be glad that you can.

Yes, give generously and be glad that Red Cross—your Red Cross—is still the greatest mother in the world and that wherever in the world your boy is

The RED CROSS is at his side and the Red Cross is YOU!

The Forestry Division of the Newton Street Department is to undertake this year a program of tree planting which will in some degree replace trees lost in the hurricane of 1938. The city now has approximately 45,000 trees. In the hurricane 13,000 trees were lost.

An appropriation has been made in the budget of $2,000 to be expended for this purpose. Last year the amount appropriated was $1,500 and in 1942 the sum of $1,986 was expended.

The sum of $18,000 for the care of trees was appropriated in the budget this year. Last year the appropriation for this purpose was $17,000 on which $16,451 was expended. The department is planning to pay strict attention to the care of the trees in order to preserve those remaining.

He returned to the front following his engineering efforts.

Collins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Collins of 27 Hillside rd., Newton Highlands. He did graduate work at Princeton in art and archeology and in September, 1942, joined the 26th Unit of the American Field Service. He has served for 18 months in every field from Cairo to Tunis.

NEWTON SERVICE MEN TURN TO RED CROSS

Home Service is the important link between the man in the armed forces and his family back home, and upon it rests the dual responsibility of helping to maintain morale in the service men's home and of supplying information about home conditions to the commanding officers. It's staff is on hand 24 hours a day, ready at all times to assist the service man and his family in meeting those needs which necessarily arise from the man's services in the armed forces.

Here are a few examples which show the range of service which Newton Home Service offers:

Emergency Furloughs

A Newton man, away in service, was anxious about his wife's health, as she was soon to have a baby, her first child. Through our Home Service and the camp Field Director, he was assured that everything was going along fine. Suddenly, the situation changed, complications placed the wife's life in grave danger and made the husband's presence necessary. An emergency telegram to the Field Director at camp, explaining the desperate situation, was interpreted to the man's military superior and gained him an emergency furlough. When this emergency furlough expired, the wife was still on the danger list and the attending physician advised that the soldier's presence was still needed because of the moral support he gave his wife in her courageous fight for life. He was constantly at her bedside encouraging her all through the time she hovered between life and death. Home Service assisted in having the furlough extended several times by reporting to the military through the Red Cross Field Director, thus keeping the man's service record clear. We were able to assist the soldier in arranging for the care of his infant son while the mother was so dangerously ill. When finally the crisis was passed and the young wife began her slow, tedious climb back to health, doctors agreed that the young husband's devotion and will for his wife to live, to which she had responded, was a primary reason for her recovery. They strongly recommended that the soldier be allowed to stay with his family, and an honorable discharge from military service was obtained through the efforts of our Home Service division.

Discharged Veterans

There are many problems facing returned veterans in their adjustment back into civilian life.

One Newton man recently, who was honorably discharged from active service, arrived home after months of hospitalization—ready, able, and anxious to work. In the course of his hospitalization he had been transferred to several different base hospitals. His formal discharge was issued at his original base and his discharge papers had supposedly followed him from place to place. However, when he was finally released, his papers were not available. Somewhere along the line, they had been lost in the confusion of transfers.

This man was badly in need of a job, for he had no money, and his pride kept him from asking for financial help, but he could not find employment without his discharge papers. Newton Home Service was able to proceed through official channels and obtain a certificate in lieu of his original discharge which covered him, and made it possible for him to obtain employment in a defense plant. In the meantime, through correspondence with the Red Cross Field Directors at the various hospitals in which he had been, the lost papers were found, awaiting a proper forwarding address. This man now has his original discharge papers, is aiding the war effort by employment in defense work, and has taken his place in his home community once more.

Financial Assistance

When a man is overseas and is worried about home, our Red Cross Home Service maintains a direct line of communication with him through Red Cross Field Directors. A sailor was troubled about his wife who was seriously ill, and Red Cross was able to obtain reassuring bulletins for him about her progress, during his stretch of active duty overseas.

Several months later, this husband arrived in an east coast port. He longed to see his wife who had passed the critical stage in her illness. However, his devotion to duty forced him to the decision that he could not take a chance of getting so far from his ship on the leave granted to him. It was a hard decision to make, especially if another hazardous trip at sea was facing him.

His Field Director was concerned about him and telegraphed Newton Home Service to request that we help his wife make a visit to her husband, since it was the only way this family could be reunited for even a brief period. Home Service helped make arrangements and loaned the wife money for railroad fare, thus enabling the couple to spend the short leave together.

GIRL SCOUT TROOPS LEARN FIRST AID

Three Girl Scout Troops are receiving First Aid instruction under the auspices of the Newton Red Cross. It has been announced by Mrs. C. O. Mooney, chairman of the First Aid Committee for the Newton Chapter. They are Troop 45, under the leadership of Mrs. Edward A. Cady; Troop 15, with Mrs. Frederick Parsons as leader, and Troop 54 under Mrs. Walter Kohn.

"DRIVE FOR VICTORY" CAMPAIGN

Newton Red Cross is conducting a "Drive for Victory" campaign in an effort to gain additional members for the first reserve Motor Corps. "We are urgently in need of extra drivers," said Mrs. Stanley Stedfast, captain of the Motor Corps, "who can be on duty during the daytime as our hospital and chapter driving is increasing every day. Newton Red Cross leans very heavily on the Motor Corps and we in turn must ask the women of Newton to rally round and volunteer their cars and their time so that we can carry on."

Any American Citizen between the ages of 18 and 50 is eligible for membership in the Motor Corps, and details of enrollment can be obtained by telephoning the Newton Chapter House, LAS 6000.

THRIFT CENTER SALVAGE SERVICE

We suggest that you call LAS 2112 and add your name to the list of those receiving this convenient monthly service. Save it for Newton.

AN APPRECIATION OF CHARLES FRANKLIN BACON

"In the passing of Charles Franklin Bacon, a personality has left us, the like of whom we have never seen before, and in all probability, will never see again. As an exemplar of fidelity, as a champion of right against wrong, as a seeker of truth, and as one true to his convictions, he was without an equal.

"He was a real man of God, a devout Christian, and a staunch believer in the Gospel. His life was long and useful and always in the service of God and his fellow-men. Nobody knows the good which he accomplished in his own, unique, quiet way.

"His friends, who really knew him, have a great heritage and shall cherish his memory and rejoice in the fact that he lived life to the full for many years, and was happy through them all. He will be remembered for his cheerfulness of manner, for his patience of attitude, for his unselfishness and thoughtfulness of others, for a wholesome alertness of mind and spirit, for many and varied kindnesses concerning which many people never knew.

"Life was alive and real to Charles Bacon; but the church and religion were the center of his life interest. As he faced the future, it held no terrors for him. He looked into the life that lies beyond, and it appeared to him as natural as the life that he lived here. It was to him a part of one divine design that encompassed it all. His life will live on, not only in his own living spirit, but also in the good deeds and the memories which he has left behind."

The above are expressions of appreciation in part by the minister of the North Congregational Church where Mr. Bacon was organist for many years and in part by close friends, many of whom are prominent business men and citizens of Newton.

Seed Flat Needed in Hot As Well as Cold Weather

Bore a Hole in the Bottom of Seed Flat.

Insert a Piece of Clothes Line.

Wick Lifts Water From Pan Below to Soil Above.

Sow Seeds in Rows, and Transplant Seedlings.

A seed flat is useful in the Victory garden throughout the year. In hot, dry summer weather it is often very difficult to obtain good germination from seeds of lettuce, endive, kohlrabi, and some others sown in the garden.

This is as difficult in rainy weather as in dry, when the soil is somewhat heavy, because rains compact the soil over the seed, the degree of bakes it, and the seed sprouts cannot emerge.

But a seed flat can be filled with sandy loam, placed in a shady spot, and easily kept moist, so that seeds will germinate as easily as in the spring. By allowing the plants to reach a good size in the flat, they can usually be transplanted to the garden with small loss, and your second and third crops proceed to grow on schedule.

Many gardeners feel that it is easier to transplant lettuce and cabbage from a flat to the garden in June than it is to do the same when the seed is sown in the open. By sowing your flat a week or two before the previous crop is exhausted, no time is lost in spite of the check in growth caused by transplanting.

For the seed flat used outdoors in midsummer, some method of automatic watering is ideal, since otherwise it is necessary to soak the flat daily, or even twice a day. The wick-watering method gives excellent results when the flat is placed above a pan sufficiently large to supply water for two or three days. The wick, which may be a piece of clothes line, passing through a hole in the bottom of the flat, has its top frayed and imbedded in the soil. The results when the flat is placed above a pan below the soil, which is kept full of water.

As long as there is water in the pan below, the soil in the box will keep moist. By varying the height of the box above the pan, the degree of moisture may be controlled. When seeds have been sown, the box may be set in a shady place until they germinate, and afterwards they can be given full sun or partial shade, according to the weather and time of year, which may give the seedlings plants the best conditions in which to develop.

NEWTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BULLETIN

Retail Sales

Retail sales in Massachusetts showed the following percentage changes for the year 1943 over the year 1942: The Food Group +12%, Drug Stores +17%, Restaurants +24%, Hardware +3%; Fuel Dealers +2%, Package Stores +28%, Automotive Group +2%, Apparel (Men's and Women's) +13%, Building Materials +1%, Furniture & Household +8%, Florists +17%, All other Stores +17%.

You will notice that the above kinds of business show a wide variance, some showing large increases over 1942 while others show a loss. Based on previous comparisons of Newton's Sales with the State average, we have found that generally those who have made gains show a larger increase than the State average, and those whose sales show a loss have been less than the State average.

Post War Survey

In our bulletin of January 1943 we stated that the National Chamber's survey of post war consumer buying indicated that 1,540,000 families would probably build or buy a house within six months after the War ends. Breaking these figures down for Newton we find that 50 per cent of the indicated amounts that families expect to spend would be below the amount necessary to build or buy a house here. By applying the same formula to our City, for the remaining 50 per cent, as used in the National Survey would indicate that 396 buyers would be in the market to buy or build in the six months period following the winning of the war.

THE AUBURNDALE REVIEW CLUB

The annual "Guest Night" of the Review Club was held Tuesday evening, March 14th, in the chapel of the Congregational Church.

Mrs. Walter Amesbury, president of the club, welcomed the guests and introduced the musical group, who are members of the club. Mrs. Dana Kendall, accompanied by Mrs. Franklin Leland at the piano, sang a group of four songs which won genuine applause and appreciation from the audience.

Mrs. Edward Kelly, chairman of the program committee, introduced Dr. Herbert J. Gezork, who is serving on the faculty at Wellesley College and also at Andover Newton Theological School. Dr. Gezork escaped from Germany before we entered the war and is now an American citizen—one that this country can be proud to welcome.

His talk was largely of his personal experiences before leaving Germany, and in getting established in this country, all of which he made amusing and entertaining for he possesses a keen sense of humor.

A social hour followed with refreshments served by Miss Anne Bunker and her committee from a refreshment table beautifully decorated with spring flowers.

The members of the Review Club enjoy this social evening with their friends once every year.

Victory Garden Can Be Beautiful and Productive

An Attractive, Well Designed Vegetable Garden.

A Victory Garden may easily be made a beautiful feature of the home grounds. Many large private estates offer object lessons for the owners of smaller grounds, in the way they make vegetable gardens attractive.

Such gardens are usually surrounded by well marked boundaries of plants, or fencing; and they are divided by paths which make an interesting pattern, and give access to the garden area. Paths may be bordered with flowers, or with some of the perennial vegetables, such as chives and rhubarb.

Lattices to surround the garden are easily made, the lumber of the right size being on sale by many dealers, or it can be cut to any desired measurement. Lattice painted green and supporting climbing beans or other vines offers one of the finest garden boundaries.

Rustic fences from branches cut from forest trees which have been felled furnish another attractive feature. The rustic trellis for grapes and on smaller scale for tall peas, pole beans and cucumbers is also extensively used. Trellises for peas are easily and

Newton Notables NOMINATED for the HALL OF FAME

Two weeks ago we discussed the careers of Chief Justice Fred T. Field of Newton and Richmond Knapp Fletcher, artist and composer of Waban.

This week we shall consider two residents of Newton Centre, Melville D. Liming, Executive Secretary of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and Hugh Nawn, President of Hugh Nawn, Inc., of Boston.

Melville Darst Liming was born on Dec. 10, 1882, in Ohio. His parents were James O. Liming and Sarah Oursler Liming. He was educated in Hamersville, Ohio, where he attended high school. In 1906 he got his A. B. from Miami University. He then came East and won his A. M. at Harvard University in 1910. This was followed by two years as a special student in the Harvard Law School. Liming was an Adams Woods fellow at Harvard, 1910-1912, and an assistant in government, 1910-1911. A few years before this he had taught history in schools in Illinois and Indiana.

In 1916 Liming married Miss Marjorie Odlin of Boston. The couple had two children, Elizabeth and Robert W. Liming. The Liming home is at 48 Ballard rd.

Leaving Harvard, Liming was engaged as instructor in political science at Tufts College from 1912-1914, the meantime being admitted to the Massachusetts Bar and serving as counsel for the Boston Legal Aid Society.

There followed an interlude when this versatile gentleman went West and organized the Brown County, Ohio, National Bank and acted as an officer and director from 1915-1917. After that came several years as a member of the staff of the National Industrial Conference Board. Then, in 1920, he was made manager of the Bureau of Commercial and Industrial Affairs of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. In 1927 he was appointed to his present post as Executive Secretary of the Chamber.

Oldtimers will recall the extremely capable and popular man who immediately preceded Melville Liming. That man was the late James A. McKibben. It is greatly to Liming's credit that he did not allow himself to be flustered by being suddenly pitched upstairs. In no time at all he was behaving like a veteran and carrying on as tho' he had been on the job for years. In the writer's opinion, there are few tougher assignments in Boston than that of being key-man in the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Any man could, of course, accept this post and coast along tactfully, making no enemies and incidentally accomplishing little or nothing. Liming is definitely not that type of man. The writer knows that, having spent a number of years in fairly strenuous committee work for the Chamber. His talents are recognized outside of his home city. This is shown by offices held in the national organization made up of men holding his position. It is only a few years ago that Liming was elected President of this organization. Good luck to this earnest and capable Newtonian.

Hugh Nawn, grandson of the nationally known contractor of the same name, immediately makes one think of the Boston Subway. He is the son of Henry Pickering Nawn and Elizabeth Agnes (Burns) Nawn and was born in Roxbury, Mass., May 28, 1888. He went to the famous Roxbury Latin School, from which so many of our finest citizens have come. He then went to Harvard University and won his S. B. degree in 1910. In 1917 Nawn married Miss Mildred Brennan of Randolph. Three children were born to the couple — Harry Pickering, Jane Virginia and Hugh Jr. The Nawns live at 920 Centre st.

Nawn's entire business career has been devoted to Hugh Nawn, Inc. Since 1922 he has served as President of this company. The chief part of the business of this company is in the field of public utilities, although some little work is done in private industry. The construction field is, of course, a vital field and the name Nawn is known and approved everywhere.

Hugh Nawn is definitely civic-minded and will always be found pulling a strong arm in any worthy community enterprise. He is especially interested in the affairs of his own university, Harvard, and can always be counted on at the annual Commencement ceremonies to handle some thankless but vitally important task which nobody else seems to find time to handle. Nawn is one of the most reliable and thoroughly dependable men I have ever known. Add to that loyalty, energy and a love for his fellow-man and you have a mighty fine combination. Newton may well be proud of Hugh Nawn.

SALVATION ARMY IS HIGHLY PRAISED

From London comes word that a fleet of mobile canteens, destined for service on the long-awaited second front, and especially designed as a combination ambulance and snack bar, are now in production in England for the Salvation Army. With official military approval, they will be attached to specified bodies of troops, moving forward with them at each advance. Similar vehicles served on the continent before Dunkirk. Only a few were salvaged, but were put to good use serving bombed-out civilians. With our troops and those of

59 UNION STREET — NEWTON CENTRE

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 22, 1889
Mr. A. I. Paine, for the past year connected with the Graphic Job Printing office, left this week for Philadelphia, to take the position of pitcher of the Athletic baseball club of that city.

If a street railway is to be laid through Elmwood st., Newton, as the West End company contemplates, that street should be widened. The street is the natural terminus of a street car line on that side of the city, and such a line would prove of great convenience to the majority of the residents in that section. The street is also a popular thoroughfare with people driving to Boston, and it can be widened now at less expense than will be the case in the near future. Perhaps the West End company would bear a part if not all of the expense, in return for being granted a location.

The building committee of the Central Congregational Church (Newtonville) has purchased the Soden estate on Walnut st. for a site for a new church. The price paid was in the vicinity of $15,000.

The New England Telephone Company this week ran two lines to Newton Centre from the central office at Newtonville. This was rendered necessary, owing to the large increase of subscribers at Newton Highlands and Newton Centre. It is probable that a new switch board will be placed in the Central office and other improvements made in the near future. The services of another operator will, it is understood, be secured, owing to the large increase in the work of the office.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 22, 1895
There seems to be no end to the different makes and names of bicycles, as about every store window in town has a different wheel with the name of a local agent. From the indications, it promises to be a great bicycle year.

The Legislature having passed the bill authorizing the city of Newton to proceed with the separation along Washington st. in accordance with the mutually satisfactory plan of depression agreed upon by the city and the Boston & Albany Railroad corporation, the question is naturally asked what is to become of the new block at the corner of Walnut and Washington sts. erected by the Association. It is of course probable, but rumor has it that it may ultimately find a location on the Dennison lot on the north side of Washington st. It is an available or rather a desirable site and of just the right area for the building.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 28, 1919
The suggestion that there should be memorial tablets in each village, giving the names of the boys who entered the service from that particular locality is one which should be acted upon by the local committees in each place. There are too many names to have put one tablet erected for the entire city, if, indeed, it would be possible to select an appropriate location for such a memorial. Village tablets will better express the feelings of us all.

The Mothers' Rest was opened and dedicated in the old "Town Farm" at Waban on June 20, 1900, by the Rev. Everett D. Burr, D.D., pastor of the First Baptist Church in Newton, at Newton Centre. There are now 463 active and 136 associate members.

Girl Scouts started in Newton two years ago. The first troop was organized in Newtonville in April, 1917, with a membership of 50 girls. There are now 350 Girl Scouts in the city.

West Newton did itself proud on Sunday afternoon, when a splendid flag bearing the inscription, "Welcome Home, Boys," was unfurled over Washington st. in front of the City Hall. Fully 3000 people were attracted by the event.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. O.

CONTEST FOR LT.-GOVERNOR

Our popular District Attorney of Middlesex County, Robert F. Bradford of Cambridge, cleared the air last week by his announcement that he would run for the office of Lieutenant-Governor in the coming Primaries. It is no secret that the close friends of Horace Cahill of Braintree were viewing with considerable alarm the mere possibility that Bradford might seek the gubernatorial nomination. Middlesex County is strong Republican territory always and any important and powerful candidate from that sector is sure to make an impressive showing. Our present Lieutenant-Governor, Mr. Norfolk County, which is also good Republican territory, but infinitely smaller than Middlesex.

What caused Bradford's decision to run for second place on the state ticket? There are a number of factors to be considered. First and foremost is the fact that Horace Cahill has been for many years the staunchest friend and ally of our Governor, Leverett Saltonstall. Always he has subordinated his own ambition and desires to the furtherance of the Governor's public career. He has worked hard and waited patiently for the day when he might make some move in his own behalf. That day has now come. The Governor's friends will, quite naturally, get behind Cahill in his present campaign. Bradford is smart enough to know that also, he has discovered that certain leaders of the Republican party in this neck of the woods feel obligated to Horace Cahill, despite their very high regard for Robert Bradford. Again, quite a few political commentators, including your columnist, have been tactfully suggesting to the District Attorney that it might be discreet for him to wait for a more suitable time to test his strength in a contest for first place on the G. O. P. ticket. (See the writer's column of March 2, which Bob Bradford advises me he read.)

Now, does this clear the field completely for Lt. Governor Cahill? The chances are that it does, altho' I have my fingers crossed until the time for filing papers has expired. There is at least one man who might not quite challenge Cahill and give him quite a battle, tho' it is doubtful if he could win the nomination. We will discuss this matter later on.

The next point to consider is the effect of the Bradford announcement on Messrs. Hunt, King and McLean, who are currently seeking the G. O. P. nomination for second place. My guess is that at least one of these distinguished gentlemen will withdraw from the race. It is barely possible that two might retire, but it is doubtful if a lot goes on behind the scenes today. Much of it is for the very legitimate purpose of maintaining party harmony during a crucial political year.

NATIONAL TICKET

Two exceedingly interesting suggestions concerning national affairs have been made within the past few days. One was the idea of a Wilkie-Dewey debate on national and international issues; the other was a possible Wilkie-Dewey OR Dewey-Wilkie ticket. Let's consider these two propositions briefly. Frankly, it does not seem likely that a Wilkie-Dewey debate could be arranged. Wilkie would have little, if anything, to gain from a debate with such a clever adversary as Dewey would have a great deal to lose. Let us remember that the New York Governor is STILL on record to the effect that he WILL complete his four-year term as Chief Executive. He is NOT NOW an avowed candidate for the G. O. P. nomination for the Presidency. He may never be a candidate. What, therefore, would be his excuse for engaging in a widely-publicized debate with the leading contender in his own party? He would lose a great deal of prestige at the very time when his popularity is growing all over the country.

As for a Wilkie-Dewey or a Dewey-Wilkie ticket, it is not likely that either man will endorse the other. My guess is that they will down underneath neither man cares much for the other. As a national magazine recently pointed out, the two men are utterly different in character, temperament and policies. They are both Republicans and that is about all. Personally, I cannot possibly visualize a combination of these two men on one ticket.

THE SOLDIERS' VOTE

By next week there will be a good deal to say about the famous Soldiers' Vote bill. It is a shame that a matter of such outstanding importance should have been kicked around like a political football for so many months. I certainly do not envy the President. He is sure to be severely criticized whichever move he makes. On the surface, a veto will seem like a slap at the men in the armed forces. On the other hand, his approval will appear to indicate a partial surrender to the states rights advocates. F.D.R. is on the spot.

A Statement From Robt. F. Bradford

In the Republican Primary contest I am a candidate for the nomination of Lieutenant Governor. These are not ordinary times. There has never been a greater need for restoring Republican principles nationally, and retaining them in this Commonwealth than in the present crisis. This can be attained only through leadership of vision, judgment, and broad understanding of human values. A wide range of experience, as well as a demonstrated capacity in public affairs, is required. It is the duty of every citizen to offer his services to the people of his state in whatever direction his abilities may lie.

I have had 10 years of well-rounded experience in the service of the Commonwealth. As a Republican I was Secretary to the Governor in the administration of Joseph B. Ely. During these four years I had an unequalled opportunity to study at close range the various state departments, the workings of legislative procedure, and the manifold problems which the Chief Executive must face.

In 1940 I was elected a delegate to the Republican National Convention. In 1938, and again in 1942, I was elected District Attorney of the Northern District which represents one-fourth of the total population of the Commonwealth. For more than five years I have been continuously engaged in the study of conditions and problems in the 54 cities and towns in this area. The people of this district, Middlesex County, by their overwhelming vote in 1942 demonstrated their approval of an office conducted vigorously, ably, and in the public interest.

In the belief that I can bring to the Republican ticket and to the Commonwealth a record of public service, a background of experience, and qualification which fit the needs of the present times, I seek the Republican nomination of Lieutenant Governor.

BOWEN SCHOOL RECEIVES MINUTE MAN FLAG

Bowen School in Newton Centre was the 25th school to receive the Treasury Minute Man Flag, 98 per cent of the students having purchased War Savings Stamps during the month of February. A special assembly was called for the presentation exercises. Norman DiGiovanni introduced Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, who brought them congratulations from the Treasury Department. Mr. William H. Wragg, Treasurer of the Newton Centre Savings Bank, presented the school with the flag with congratulations of the officers of the bank. The flag was accepted for the school by Guy Spezzano, Capt. Alden Dinsmore represented the Army and the children enjoyed hearing of his experiences in the South Pacific. Miss Ruth E. Dorley, principal of the school, and her assistant, Mrs. Myra B. Hampton, attended the presentation. Also Mrs. Henry J. Ide, chairman of the War Savings Committee for Newton Centre and "Stamp Lady" for the Bowen School was present.

New Fundamentals of Machine Course

On February 28 a new pre-induction course was begun in Mr. Burnside's room in the Newton Trade School under curriculum III. The course, Fundamentals of Machines, is offered to both boys and girls in order that they may prepare for better service in the armed services or industry. The course runs each C block for 20 weeks or one-half year and nets 2 1/2 diploma credits. The four C-blocks are divided, two being spent on academic work and the other two on mechanical experiments to acquaint the students with the practical principles of mechanics. A the present time there are 14 boys taking this course. The course was formed at the government's request because of the war demand for technical skills. College preparatory students are encouraged to look into it.

On Wednesday morning, Mar. 8, the showmen provided the most enjoyable assembly of the year with two successful plays; one by the Neophytes, and the other by the Puppets. The program got off to an hilariously entertaining start when the Puppets produced "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" complete with brilliant stage puppets and special sound equipment. The perfect coordination obtained between the voices on the loud speaker and the cute puppets on the stage was due to the work and instruction of Mrs. Cornell, the faculty adviser.

Whither Post War World

By J. T. MacVICAR

The world of tomorrow is evolved from the thinking of today crystallized into action. Then what kind of a post-war world do you want? This question is a personal challenge to each individual and none of us can escape the responsibility involved. True we can shirk our duty because there is no law to compel us to fulfill our obligations to the state.

The approach to national and international problems reflect the composite thinking or lack of thinking by the people in a democracy. Thinking is the most potent force in national life; on it depends progress and development or regression and decay. It is a two-edged sword that cuts on the back stroke as well as on the forward; it is Shakespeare said: "There is nothing either good or bad but thinking makes it so." Once the mind is set, the rest is a matter of time. We live in the post-war world we hope to live in.

Hitler stood the test of thought for and utilized it in his climb to power. It was primarily a Fascist idea, a Fascist domination in Germany. Once the Fascist idea was in, the Fascist thought was attained. The Fascist idea, a road to supremacy was open. The Fascist idea, a road to supremacy was open. The Fascist idea, a road to supremacy was open.

Hitler had an idea, a German Fascist State. At first it was ridiculed by the German people and government and Hitler dismissed as just another demagogue. But Hitler, through clever and constant application of propaganda, mental suggestion, both open and obscure, succeeded in his original purpose, implemented by the support of the so-called better class of the German people, the white collar worker, professional and small business groups. And their intellectual down-the-middle-road fellow-travelers who were mesmerized by Nazi propaganda believing that Fascism would preserve their way of life; and either by direct ballot or refusing to utilize the franchise gave Hitler the mandate to power.

Had the German people been mentally alert they would have seen through the veil of political industrial ambitions, racial superiority and national supremacy. The German people failed to make a mental analysis of what was transpiring in their world. They accepted what was told them without questioning the source from which it emanated or the motives involved, and so became the unwitting victims of Fascist ideology and the consequent loss of their liberty and the precipitators of unparalleled carnage.

What happened in Germany and Italy can happen in America. It is not enough that we have a Constitution and Bill of Rights that guarantees us liberty. Germany had a constitution! Italy had a constitution! Our constitutional guarantees go the same way that theirs went if we through indifference to our duty as citizens fail to maintain the Constitution. And our price will be the same price other peoples paid for the offense of apathy in national affairs.

(Editor's Note: From time to time Mr. MacVicar will discuss in these columns various phases of national and international political issues.)

The 21-35 Club will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John C. MacMaster, 58 Circuit ave., on Sunday, Mar. 26th, at 8:15 p. m.

Rotary Club

The speaker was Benedikt Grondal, of Reykjavik, Iceland, a nineteen year old student at the University of Iceland. His command of English, after only six years of study in his native land, left every member very humble as he thought of how he would have handled the Icelandic language had he been before the Rotary Club of Reykjavik. Incidentally, Grondal told us that the Icelandic language, a Scandinavian tongue has come down without adulteration from the ninth century or so with the result that the natives can read without difficulty the ancient sagas of that early time.

The Icelanders were much relieved to have England occupy them instead of Germany, especially as German "tourists" and "Scientific expeditions" had been very numerous there. Grondal took over when Britain was in its dark hours, have been equally acceptable. Mr. Grondal explained, however, the difficulties which have led many a service man stationed there to feel unhappy about his situation. In the first place, they have to live cramped together in Nissen huts with little opportunity for recreation and far from any prospect of active service. In the second place, since their numbers are a very considerable fraction of the native population the number of soldiers being all out of proportion to the number of families who might welcome them in their homes—the men have but limited opportunity to make local contacts that would relieve the monotony of their service.

As a friendly neutral, without army or navy, Iceland yet is making a very considerable contribution to the allies: first, by tremendous shipment of fish to England under American license, and secondly by supplying labor for the construction of naval and military establishments on the island.

Red Cross War Fund Over Top

The last day of Newton Red Cross War Fund finds the drive over with $170,000 collected, it is announced by Charles B. Floyd, chairman, and contributions still coming in. "I knew we would make our quota," said Mr. Floyd, "although it looked staggering at the beginning of the drive. But Newton has never let down a worthy cause, and I knew it would support the very necessary work that the Red Cross is doing for the men and women in the armed forces. All thanks are due the volunteers who have worked untiringly throughout this whole month, and the citizens of Newton who have given so generously so that Red Cross may always be at the side of the boys who are fighting for us."

Mr. Floyd also mentioned the splendid cooperation given the War Fund Committee by Red Cross Motor Corps, Staff Assistance Corps, and Publicity; by George White, secretary of the Newton Trust Company, who undertook bank solicitation; by the War Services Division for their help with clerical work, and by the officers of the Newton Trust Company and Newton National Bank for their assistance in the handling of the money.

The south side War Fund office was sent $240, the earnings of young Robert M. P. Kennard, Jr., of Dudley rd., Oak Hill. Bob melted down old candle ends he found in the house and remolded them in very beautiful shapes. He then took them to a nearby Red Cross sewing workshop where they sold immediately and brought him many orders for more. Bob isn't stopping with the end of the War Fund drive, but plans to continue to sell fancy candles for Red Cross as quickly as he can accumulate old candle ends.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 29, 1889
Mr. H. C. Daniels has taken the contract for delivery of the library books, which is a guarantee that the work will be satisfactorily done.

The watering carts will probably start up April 1st as the appropriation for them has passed the city council. The relief from dust will be appreciated, and now would be a good time for the collection of the subscriptions from citizens.

Rotary Club

Speaker was Jarvis Hunt, president of the Massachusetts State Senate, who was introduced by John Haughey. Mr. Hunt gave a very comprehensive inside picture of the tremendous amount of work accomplished during the last session of the General Court. From the extension of emergency war measures to passing of bills to safeguard the lives of our soldiers overseas and at home after their return, as well as taking care of the regular routine business of government such as liberalization of Old Age Pension, Workmen's Compensation Insurance, to the authorization of a bond issue to improve the East Boston Airport.

Mr. Hunt contrasted the tendency to have a government bureau with the effective and efficient functioning of democratic government which we have had in Massachusetts for the past 168 years, and he advised every business man to take an interest in politics as otherwise the politicians would not only take an interest in but take over business completely.

Visiting Rotarians: Robert Pettit, Norwalk, Conn.; Harry Smith, and James O'Connell of Watertown; Jack Walsh of Waltham; Tom Murray, Walter Phillips, of Boston; Fred Heaney of Watertown, and Honorary member, John Kent. Two other guests included Ashley Hayden and Ben Bowen.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By F. W. C.

Special Session

The prelude to the coming special session of our State Legislature on April 4 is reminiscent of the special session held two years ago. On that occasion a group of Democrats urged that a number of matters not on the official docket be discussed. The Governor declined the suggestion, and for good reasons. These special sessions cost real money and if they are unduly prolonged and drag along for several weeks, there is no assurance that anything of much importance will be accomplished. When it is all over, the harassed taxpayers foot the bills. So, on this occasion our Governor has taken his usual firm stand and has indicated that only two matters will come up for action; first and foremost, the question of advancing the date of the state primary election, normally held in September, and second, the question of extending the effective date for inspections of buildings under the Coconut Grove law.

This latter, incidentally, is the vital legislation which our own Rep. George E. Rawson did so much to further during the regular session of the Legislature last year. The point here is that unless the effective date, now May 1, is extended, some 12,000 Boston buildings and about 5,000 elsewhere in the state will be forced to close. The hitch has been that there has not been sufficient manpower with which to conduct the required inspections. Emergency legislation is, therefore, definitely ordered.

There is still a possibility that the primary date will not be set further ahead than early or mid-August, though the odds are that the date will prove to be July 11. This may prove to be sad news for a number of aspiring gentlemen, who have been counting on the usual long summer months in which to conduct their campaigns.

For example, the four distinguished statesmen who are currently competing for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor on the G. O. P. ticket may find that they will have to substantially speed up their campaigns.

Lieutenant Governor Contest

There are a number of rumors flying about in connection with the scrap for second place on the Republican ticket. On has heard that the President of the State Senate may possibly retire from the race. In view of the fact that Jarvis Hunt was the first to declare himself as a candidate, it is hard to believe that he will withdraw. However, this is a year in which the Republicans sorely need harmony within their ranks and it is conceivable that Hunt may quit. If he does, what about Speaker Rudolph King of Mills? Is there a chance that he, too, may retire and thus pave the way for District Attorney Robert F. Bradford, who has seen fit to give up an opportunity to run for the top spot? Of course, this may be a pipe dream of your columnist, but it furnishes interesting speculation. Let's watch developments very closely during the next few weeks.

Robert E. Hannegan

Last week saw a rise in the blood-pressure of Mr. Robert E. Hannegan of St. Louis, the chairman of the Democratic National Committee. He was irked by the bold statement by Republican leaders that "any good Republican" could defeat Mr. Roosevelt this fall. I don't blame him very much. As a matter of fact, it is NOT true that any good Republican can take Mr. Roosevelt into camp. Mr. Hannegan calls the G. O. P. arrogant and then proceeds to blast a number of their leaders, especially the handsome young Governor of New York, Hon. Thomas E. Dewey. Without naming Dewey, he asked if the G. O. P. intended to nominate a President "a man who is lurking and dodging behind the pretense that he is not a candidate, and hence has no obligation to discuss the fundamental problems before the American people."

Now, that particular crack is most interesting for the reason that there are quite a few Republicans who feel precisely the same way. Many of these Republicans are normally somewhat friendly to Dewey. Some even supported his candidacy in 1940. They are now wondering if it is quite right to have Dewey take up so much time and attention with making some specific statements regarding his intentions. The salient facts of the case are these: Dewey is STILL on record, public and private, to the effect that he WILL finish out his normal four-year term as Governor of New York. The further fact is that Dewey knows perfectly well that there is not one politician in a hundred who is not positive that the New Yorker is, IN SPIRIT, a real candidate for the nomination. That is a paradoxical state of affairs. Sincere Republicans are growing a bit restive. They believe that Dewey should either step out or cut bait. It is not true that the voters of our country are entitled to know JUST WHERE their presidential candidates stand on ALL issues, domestic and foreign, and more especially foreign? And how can we possibly know UNLESS all leading candidates take us into their confidence? Am I not right?

RUMMAGE SALE

Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., will hold their spring Rummage Sale at the Chapter House, 2349 Washington st., corner of Concord st., Newton Lower Falls, on Friday, March 31, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Kiwanis Activities

Tuesday, March 21, found an enthusiastic group of 80 Kiwanis Club members, wives and guests present at the Y. M. C. A., for the Annual Penny Sale. This big event was actually a combined Penny Sale and official send-off to President George Van Buskirk, who left for the armed service on the twenty-eighth.

After a sumptuous roast beef dinner, Walter Hood, vice-president of the club, presented President George with a handsome purse, a gift from his brother club members. Ben Louis also presented President George with a gift from the "What's Cookin' in Newton" committee in appreciation of his work with that group. Roy Edwards was also present and presented George with a going-away kit on behalf of citizens of the city. This rousing send-off indicated the high esteem felt by the club for its retiring president. George responded by expressing his deep appreciation for the gifts and said that while he found it very difficult to leave Newton, he was willing to put his shoulder behind the wheel and do his share in the service.

Pete Pettengill, chairman of the Penny Sale, took over and the remainder of the evening was given to the raising of money for the gifts and the various club members. These gifts included many fine articles ranging all the way from a 14-pound ham to a set of Venetian blinds. The last prizes were set aside and reserved for those persons who had not won anything previously during the evening. Chairman Pettengill did an excellent job of promoting and carrying through the Penny Sale. The financial results were very satisfactory which means that the club will be able to increase its work for underprivileged children.

The March 28th meeting of the Kiwanis Club might be said to have consisted of two parts. Approximately 25 members of the club appeared at the City Hall at 8 a. m. to officially send on his way, along with 51 other Newton men, George Van Buskirk, former club president, who, after the usual ceremony, left for Camp Devens. At 12:15 the club members reassembled at the Rich-Bellinger Chapel and Lounge on Centre ave. for their regular meeting.

Members of the club and their guests were present at the invitation of Archie Bellinger, who proved to be an ideal host. A buffet luncheon was served in the lower parlor, after which the group reassembled in the chapel. Walter Hood, who succeeds George Van Buskirk as president, suggested that the meeting be dedicated to George who had left earlier in the day. A rising vote of thanks was given to Archie for his service to the club and providing such attractive entertainment.

Several announcements were made by Walter Hood who said that the directors' meeting next Monday will be held at the office of Frank Battles. The program chairman for April will be Jim Gallagher and an effort will be made during the month of April to ring up 100 per cent attendance. Ben Louis will preside at the April 4th meeting. Archie then took over the program and introduced Hon. Paul Goddard, Mayor of Newton, who spoke briefly to the group, paying tribute to the work of Kiwanis. He introduced his close friend, Medical Examiner, Dr. T. M. Gallagher, who spoke very interestingly about the development of the undertaking profession. He stressed the debt that the individual citizen owes to the undertaker and paid tribute to the high professional integrity of Archie and others in his profession. The meeting was adjourned and members lingered to examine further the equipment and facilities available at the parlors. Very recently a splendid redecorating job had been done and the equipment and service available at the Rich-Bellinger Chapel is now among the best to be secured. This meeting was a real highlight in the life of the club.

"Twas really worth the price of admission when her fiery temper set her ready tongue in action. On one occasion, when a blonde accused her of waiting on the males in preference to the assembled females, she laid aside a sandwich the blonde had ordered, absolutely refusing to give it to her. The blonde protested long and loud, but to no avail. Whereupon she became belligerent inviting her tormentor to "come out in the alley and fight like a man." It wasn't nice and they never did get to the point of physical combat, but it was typical of what can happen these days, during the wee small hours, in the Daffness League.

TAX

Certain brands of cigarettes are scarce and cigars are among the missing at times. Starting next week, a new 30 per cent tax goes into effect in all cafes, night clubs etc., offering entertainment with their other wares. That's going to be a pretty big item in the budgets of the men and women about town. From then on, when Reggie the Riveter takes his lil' Winnie the Welder out to dine and enjoy the lilting voice of Sophie the Soprano, the tax, plus the 5 per cent old pension charge, will nudge his pocket six dollars and ten cents. If Reggie and his Light-O-Love are partial to the essence, known to the elegant as pep-upppo, the chances are that his bill will soar its way through the taxes, seen and unseen, amounting to nearly half.

AROUND TOWN

There are still a number of expert pistol marksmen left on the Newton Police Department. Patrolmen Joe Smith, Frank Lovely, Joe Greeley and Owen Smith, competing against teams representing 75 police departments, won second place recently. Joe Smith's was the highest individual score. Monday, March 27th, as this article takes form, we learn that for the first time in this war, a public sendoff will be given a group of men about to leave for service in the Navy, Wednesday, March 29th. It will be sponsored by the Chaplain Farwell Chapter, D. A. V. The men will be addressed by Mayor Paul Goddard, Rev. Ray Anderson Euse, D.D., minister of the Eliot Church, Judge Thomas Weston and Roy Edwards, chairman of the Citizens' Committee. John J. Keefe has been elected Exalted Ruler of the Newton Elks. Last Thursday some 1,200 persons attended the third anniversary military ball of the Third Company, 23rd Regiment, Massachusetts State Guard of Newton at the Totten Pole Ballroom. Joe Delaney, superintendent of Newton's automotive equipment, tired of things mechanical after his daily eight hours of toll, keeps a riding horse Virginia gets time, especially so on Sundays a bit lonesome during the day when Joe spends most of the day in church, and last Sabbath set out by herself to catch up with Massa Joe and join him in prayer. Galloping madly along Waltham st., Virginia spied Patrolman Howard Manter at the intersection of Washington st. and in her attempts to stop at the blinking red traffic light, skidded through the doors of the West Newton Theatre where Manter placed her under arrest for violating the traffic ordinance. Lt. Russell Liscomb, co-pilot of a big Liberator, is interned in a neutral country, according to word received from the war department. Lt. Liscomb was decorated for his part in the Ploesti raid. Sgt. Gunner Bill Pescodli, another hero of the Ploesti Raid is home on leave. Bill was a track star at Newton High school.

FUND SHORT $33,165

With $33,165 still to be raised in the War Fund Campaign, Newton volunteers enter the last week of the drive convinced that the quota of $170,000 will be met. "I am sure that we will go over the top as we always have in the past," said Chairman Charles B. Floyd, "but it will take the cooperation of every worker and every citizen of Newton. With our Newton boys sacrificing their very lives for us, I can't believe that the folks back home will fail to support the organization that is always at their side wherever they are. This year the Red Cross has a bigger job than ever before to do, and it is up to us all to see that they can continue to serve our men and women in the armed forces."

The drive ends on March 31.

The runaway parrot, which was reported lost by 11-year-old Robert Elkins of 8 Jepson court, West Newton, has been returned to its owner, who claimed the bird after seeing a newspaper account of its capture.

A PRAYER

by
Louis E. Ford, Minister
Myrtle Baptist Church
West Newton, Mass.

Eternal God, our heavenly Father, we adore thy Holy name. Teach us all thy will, and give us strength to follow in the paths of truth. We beseech thee to hear our prayers on behalf of those who serve the armed forces of our beloved Country. Grant them courage, strength and faith.

Hasten the day when peace will come to this war-torn world, and sad hearts will be made glad. May the men and women who answered the call of their country hear thy call, and become true followers of thee, so that when life's battle is over, they may hear thee said, "Well done." Help us who remain here at home to do our whole duty, both to God and Country. This we earnestly pray. Amen.

Fifteen schools entered campaigns to purchase equipment for the Army; the High School 3 PT-B19 Fairchild "Cornell" Training Planes at a cost of $45,000. The F. A. Day, John W. Weeks and Levi F. Jeeps were given to the Army by Stearns, Hamilton and Williams Schools.

NEWTON BROTHERS MEET IN ENGLAND

The two soldier sons of Mr. and Mrs. James A. MacDougall of 1401A Washington st., West Newton, held a reunion in England after a separation of two years. It was revealed in letters received from each of them recently.

Cpl. Technician Adrian Y. MacDougall, 26, who has been in the Army since February, 1942, and has recently arrived in England, was greeted by his brother, Tech. Sgt. James A., 28, who has been overseas with the Quartermaster Corps for 14 months. On learning that his brother's company of Armored Engineers had arrived in the United Kingdom, Sgt. MacDougall, who was on leave, arranged to meet the corporal at the Norwood Hotel in Somerset. The boys both attended St. Bernard's School and Newton High School. The younger of the two preceded his brother into the Army by five months, but the other brother reached England a full year ahead of Adrian.

PRESIDENT GEORGE GOES TO WAR

Last Tuesday the Newton Kiwanis Club lost its president as Uncle Sam gained another recruit for his rapidly growing army. Bright and early President George E. VanBuskirk and other inductees were given the usual sendoff at Newton City Hall by the Citizens Committee for Services to Newton Service Men. Governor Saltonstall, Mayor Goddard, Rabbi Kalman Friedman of Temple Emanuel and Roy Edwards representing the Citizens Committee all took part in the ceremonies. Kiwanis Club members were present in a group to witness the departure of their leader.

George was a member of the staff of What's Cookin' in Newton, handling the church and club contacts. Now instead of helping publish the paper, he will have the opportunity of seeing at first hand just how much What's Cookin' in Newton does to keep the old home town, its people and its events fresh in the minds of its service people.

NEWTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

"Way back in the summer of '41, when the peace time draft was in and the Monkeymen of Nippon had yet to set off the spark of their own doom at Pearl Harbor, this department traveled to Los Angeles via automobile, by way of the Southland and the Hi Yo Silver country of the Southwest. There were many army camps on the route, particularly in the south, and what with the war still seemingly far away and all, it was our impression, then, that nobody was giving much thought to the plight of tons of thousands of young fellows wearing Uncle Sam's khaki, who were slowly going nuts for the want of something to do, or somewhere to go in their spare time, down in that lonesome country."

With no U S O or any of the various agencies of today to provide so much as a football to kick around, or a book to read, the soldiers we'd seen around those small towns were milling about aimlessly in the manner of steers in a corral. In one little town outside of Vicksburg, Mississippi, for instance, twenty-eight of them were standing, patiently waiting for a bite to eat in a lunch cart that seated ten.

To any germ on the loose it would have appeared pretty awful and it must have been more or less hard to take at that. Time, wheels were just beginning to turn then and that after December 7th of that year, the throttle was yanked wide open. Competent authorities took over the job of caring for the service men and their needs, so that since then they've been doing all right.

IN REVERSE

The fellows who went through that period, however, may get a kick out of the news that, now, it's the brethren on the home front who are doing the standing around. They are all working at something or other and with a little extra cash, plus a night or two in which to step out each week, there's enough of them to fill every place that sells anything every night in the week. During the rush hours, space in which to squeeze the body is at a premium on the trains and trolleys. Standing room in the theatres is precious and dining out, or doing almost anything else, like the old gray mare, just ain't what it used to be.

The natives are paying plenty for everything they get, too. Especially in the restaurants, where the lack of ration points and help is acute. Many of the cafeterias have been employing women on the night as well as the day shifts, and many of the gals are proving themselves very temperamental. Wise diners walk softly and say "pardon please" or else the food and the service is apt to be pretty bad.

The local cafeteria featured a counter woman, until recently, (Continued on page 4)

When the United States entered this war, with its consequent disruption of family home life, the pharmacists of Newton, including every pharmacy owner and registered pharmacist in your neighborhood drug store, quickly decided on a 24-hour perpetual inventory. This does not mean cigars, cigarettes, shaving creams, cosmetics and other sundry items, but that priceless inventory which represents the foundation of every home — the GOOD HEALTH of

THE HILLS AHEAD

The Hills ahead look hard and steep and high.
Often we behold them with a sigh;
But as we near them, level grows the road.
We find on every slope, with every load,
The climb is not so steep, the top so far.
The hills ahead look harder than they are.

And so it is with troubles, though they seem so great
That men complain, and fear and hesitate,
Less difficult the journey than we dreamed,
It never proves as hard as once it seemed.
There never comes a hill, a task, a day,
But, as we near it, easier the way.
—Inklings.

NEWTON JUNIOR COMMUNITY CLUB
The activities of the Community Service & War Work Committee of the Newton Junior Community Club have been numerous during the past two weeks. A bridge party, under the chairmanship of Miss Ruth W. Aldrich was conducted in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium on March 15th for the purpose of purchasing a radio for a ward at Fort Devens.

The committee arranged for a group of six to donate blood and plasma at the Red Cross Center in Boston on the 21st. Included in the group were Miss Alice M. Andersen, president, Mrs. Herbert Hopkins, and the Misses Betty Tobey, Louise Speare, Jane Mansfield, and Faith Stanton.

On March 26th the committee assisted the Senior Community Club in preparing and serving refreshments at the Sunday Afternoon Tea at the Station Hospital at Fort Devens. Teas are held each Sunday for the men and their relatives and friends. About twenty club members were guests of the Seaman's Friendly Society in Boston on the 28th for an evening of dancing.

Quinn, 22 Knowles st., Newton Centre, who is a military substitute on the force.

SPRING OPENS WITH BIG SNOW STORM

The first day of spring, brought with it the biggest snow storm of the winter. 8 to 12 inches of the white stuff brought out the plows and snow shovellers. Rotarian John Haughey, street commissioner, was serenaded at the Rotary Club meeting with "Jingle Bells," in observance of the storm.

The following days were balmy and spring-like, and the snow made a quick get away.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

In the Beaux Arts to be presented on March 31, those sitting in the audience will see the finest exhibition of dancing and musical talent imaginable from a high school group. "Peter and the Wolf" will be thrillingly presented by a cast of nine dancers in striking costumes, a selected group from the orchestra playing the difficult music of Prokofiev, and six narrators. The dancing, directed by Miss Forte, will be done by a group who have been continually practicing for the occasion. Their costumes are the finest ever to come out of the art department; the scenery likewise will be grand on a scale previously unattempted.

The Newton swimming class passed its thirteenth session last week without a mishap. These classes are held for the benefit of boys who want to learn to swim or those who wish to improve their swimming. About 25 boys are in the class that meets at the Newton Y. M. C. A., on Wednesdays during the first period.

The class begins at 8:30 and at 9:05 the boys are on their way back to the high school. After attendance has been taken the class settles down to a half-hour workout.

The swimming pool is about 20 yards long by 7 wide, with constantly changing water.

From 8:45-10:45 on Wednesday morning, March 15, the Army-Navy College Qualifying Examination, issued by the War Department through the high school, was given. Approximately 150 senior and junior candidates for graduation in June, who fulfilled the requirements took the exam, which consisted of the following: (a) the meaning and use of words, (b) scientific matters of general knowledge, and (c) problems in mathematics.

Those who gave as their preference the army will, if they pass, be offered military scholarships in the Army Specialized Training Reserve Program. Under this system they will receive training at a selected college on inactive duty until the end of the term in which they reach their eighteenth birthday, "except in the event of an unforeseen military emergency."

Seven of Newton High's boys have enlisted this past month as apprentice seamen, V-5, in the United States Naval Reserve which leads to flight training as V-5 aviation cadet. These boys are currently enrolled in their last semester of high school and are scheduled to graduate in June, 1944.

The boys are Howard Abbott, Orlando Colucci, Raymond Henderson, Anthony Vesper, Howard Bronsdon, Parker Vaughn and Roger Bryant.

The book drive sponsored by The Newtonite had brought in from all sources 1,520 books and 600 magazines at the last count. The types run from the "Library of World's Best Literature" to Dahl's "Cartoons."

This year's intramural basketball tournament, under the guiding hand of "Doc" Simmons, was launched Monday, March 5. The number of teams is much greater than in other years, so every "outfit" plays until it is defeated. Six or seven men compose each team and the eight squads of each class play only teams in their own grade. A small group enables everyone to play more. The record enrollment of about 150 boys testifies to basketball's popularity.

Nearly 1,200 persons, including regimental officers, attended the third anniversary military ball of the Third Company, 23rd Regiment, Massachusetts State Guard of Newton at the Totem Pole Ball room, Auburndale, last Thursday night.

A complaint that gasoline has been siphoned from his car on three occasions recently was received by the police from David Foldman of Shepard's Pharmacy, 1265 Centre st., Newton Centre. The thefts occurred on Centre st., near the drug store, within the past two weeks between the hours of 7 and 10, he reported.

A petition for a variance of application of the zoning ordinance to authorize a change in lot sizes to permit the erection of a small dwelling on Grant ave., Newton Centre, was unanimously rejected by the Newton Board of Aldermen.

SPORTS . . . in a Nutshell

The Braves and Red Sox are right at it looking for the coming season. Look at the names of the men with our teams and with the other teams in the leagues, who can predict just what will happen this year.

Joe Cronin will get right at it in Baltimore to get in shape if he has to play regular this year. There are many who would rather see Joe out on the field regularly even if he can't step as fast as some other players.

Our Red Sox pitching staff of Pinky Woods, Joe Wood, Hank Terry, Vic Johnson will start bearing down from now on Hank threw a few snappy curves Saturday.

The Braves regulars played a six inning game with the Yannis Friday with the regulars winning 3-2. It won't be long now before they will be right at it.

The Yanks may lose Bonham and Crosetti; if they do they will have to step to keep up near the top.

Mort Cooper, star pitcher of St. Louis Nationals, and winner of 21 games last year and the only World Series winner is now definitely classed as a holdout.

Gil Dodds certainly earned his new title. King of Meters. What a record nine indoor miles under 4:09 in 3 years. We thought Glenn Cunningham was some miler with five indoor miles under 4:09 in 8 years. Gil is a wonder, only champions can set a pace like his. Newton is proud of you Gil.

Our Lady's High Basketball team who had a wonderful season this year, met defeat by Cheverus High of Portland 38-21 in the semi-finals Saturday, March 18.

Again Henry Armstrong punched his way to a win over Ralph Zanelli. Henry was awarded all the rounds except the last when he just coasted. It looks like this chap Henry does not know how old he is and that he should have been washed up long ago. He may fight in Madison Square Garden this year and that means dough for Henry.

Maurice Richards of 'Canadiens scored all five goals Thursday night against Toronto to set an all-time record in the playoffs.

The semi-finals of the third annual Tri-Community Basketball tournament will be staged this evening at the "Y" gym with the Waltham Naval at 8:15 o'clock and the Newton "Y" meeting the Newton Irish Five in the finale.

Carlos Scaffidi is expected to be the big gun for the Waltham quintet, with Henry Woroncz expected to pace the Navy.

Considerable rivalry exists between the two Newton teams in the tourney, with Marco Marino and Norman (Red) Needy pacing the "Y" and Roger Bryant and Russ Crosby expected to provide the opposing punch.

Tonight's winners will meet on Saturday for the tourney title.

The two Newton teams survived the first round in the third annual Newton "Y" Tri-Community basketball tourney when the Irish Five outshot the Watertown Fiveclub 50 to 41, and the "Y" downed the Watertown Arsenal, 67 to 46, at the "Y" gym on Saturday night.

The Irish Five-Simcock Club contest was a wide open affair with Roger Bryant piling up 26 points for scoring honors. Russ Crosby, Phil Jasset and Bill Hanson also starred on the offense, while Joe Murphy was outstanding on the defense. The Watertown Club missed the services of Bob Clark who left for service in the Army Air Forces on Wednesday. Bob Costello, Warren Childs and John Lindahl were the stars for the losers.

Marco Marino and Andy Laza paced the "Y" as they fought a big, experienced Arsenal quintet. Bob Eisenhauer, former University of Michigan star; Steve Szabo and Bob Isaacs, former West End House leading lights, were the big guns for Watertown. The "Y" missed the services of Ken Feldman, best all-around man on the team, who has completed his course at Middlesex Medical School and has returned to New York.

Team 5 took sole possession of first place in the Newton Y. M. C. A. House Bowling League by defeating Team 2, 4 to 0, in the third week of the final round of competition. Other scores for the week were Team 1, 3, Team 3, 1; Team 6, 3, Team 4, 1.

Jack Ward, captain of Team 5, leads the league in individual scoring in all departments with a high single string of 132; high, three of 349, and a high average of 96.

Team standing:

| Team | W. | L. |
|--------|----|----|
| Team 5 | 9 | 3 |
| Team 1 | 8 | 4 |
| Team 6 | 6 | 6 |
| Team 2 | 5 | 7 |
| Team 4 | 4 | 8 |
| Team 3 | 4 | 8 |

Evidence of the employer's offer of the position must be given to the school by letter, interview or signature on a blank which may be obtained at the placement office. Written approval of the parent or guardian must also be given on the blank.

In the second set of postal matches of the New England Police Revolver League, the Newton police pistol team won second place among teams representing 75 police departments, and Joseph H. Smith, Newton instructor, shot the high individual score.

The Newton team consisted of Smith, Joseph M. Greeley, John F. Lovely and Owen Quinn. Smith scored 1180 points to capture high individual honors. Lovely was seventh among all contestants with a score of 1152.

DOBBIN TRIES TO CRASH MOVIES

While being walked about the exercise grounds of the estate of Joseph Delaney at 356 California st., West Newton, yesterday afternoon, Virginia Dare, a 5-year-old show horse, raced down Waltham st. and becoming frightened continued on to Washington st. and finally wound up in the lobby of the West Newton Theatre, only a block away from the police station.

More than 700 persons were in the theatre, unaware that the frightened animal ended his wild race by plunging against the heavy double doors.

FLYING CROSS IS GIVEN SGT. HEFFRON

Sergt. Paul C. Heffron, 22, Army Air Forces, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Heffron of 10 Cherry pl., West Newton, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. The citation accompanying the award stated that the award was made for "outstanding courage, ability and devotion to duty" during flights over mountainous terrain at low altitudes and under adverse weather conditions.

Sgt. Heffron was graduated from the Newton High School and from Boston College in 1942. He entered the Army in August, 1943. He has two brothers in the service, Pvt. James Heffron, Jr., who is at Camp Barkeley, Texas, and Pvt. Richard Heffron, a veteran of Guadalcanal, who is now stationed at Camp Santa Anita, Calif.

Announcement of the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Sgt. Heffron was the first inkling his parents had that he had been on a flying assignment. In a letter received from him last week from New Guinea, he mentioned that he had been promoted to the rank of sergeant, but did not mention that any change had been made in his duties of serving as control tower operator with a troop carrier outfit. He had however been trained as a radio operator and was qualified to serve as a member of a plane crew.

Develops in Winter

Veterinarians warn that mange often is dormant during the summer months, but develops rapidly, with the advent of cold weather, when hogs are housed more closely and when bad weather reduces their vitality. Control measures, therefore, need special attention during the fall and winter months.

RENNARD-NEWMAN

Miss Thelma Edwards Newman became the bride Tuesday evening, March 14, of Chief Boatswain's Mate Richard Nolan Rennard, U. S. Coast Guard, son of Mrs. A. D. Rennard of 81 Madison ave., Newtonville. The eight o'clock double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Wallace Forney, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Melrose at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Winslow Newman of Foster st., Melrose.

The bride wore a princess gown of white satin and duchess lace, a veil of French tulle from a crown of orange blossoms and carried white roses, snapdragons and acacia. The maid of honor, Storekeeper 2-C Elaine Greenlaw, Spar, wore a blue gown styled with a fitted bodice and full net skirt and carried pink roses and snapdragons. Carolyn White Newman and Grace Claire Edwards, cousins of the bride, were the flower girls. Their frocks were of pink marquisette and they carried colonial bouquets tied with blue ribbons. Mrs. Newman wore blue crepe-de-chine with a corsage of pink roses while Mrs. Rennard was gowned in blue crepe with gardenias.

Beverly C. Bostwick was the best man and the ushers were Philip Emerson Newman and Charles Warren Brown, both of Melrose, and Charles E. Edwards of West Somerville.

Mineral Mixture

It is most important that hogs receive a good mineral mixture while they are "hogging down" soybean and peanut fields. Where no bone meal is available, use 10 pounds of ground limestone and 5 pounds of salt.

ALICE IN AN AMERICAN WONDERLAND

By Deborah O'Hanlon

It was one of those March mornings when the promptings of Spring urge you to do something different. I had the day off, no social engagements and a decided touch of seasonal wanderlust. At Park st. subway station I became part of a churning assortment of humanity; in very fact it seemed that the United Nations had planned to mass there for the coming invasion. The first car of the station was a three-section bound for Brookline. Like a rabbit with the hounds of spring on my trail I scampered on board, and away we rolled on my uncharted course.

About ten minutes later, the three-car train stopped before a massive grey building. Being then the last passenger whose train the car I alighted. An odd blending of the modern and medieval in architecture blocked out the skyline. The morning sun glinted on the bastions of what looked like an English castle and on the more modern facade of the hotel that fronted it.

Like the other "Alice" I walked in; through a grey and gold lobby hung with gilt mirrors. The walls were of fumed oak and the place bore the dignity of a Beacon Hill dowager. (But wait 'til I tell you about the bedrooms.)

I off a lounge done in dove-grey Grecian panels I came to a blue dining-room finished in gold-leaf. This room was in process of being prepared for a wedding breakfast. A corps of men, evidently old retainers, were being directed in the matter of arrangement by a blond man with a faint foreign accent and a continental air.

I stood enchanted while they placed rustling, embossed linen on an elongated, T-shaped table. Next came water goblets, gold and blue service plates and heavy silver. At each place the men put crystal fruit cups in which were arranged with artistic perfection, a sunburst of sliced orange that cupped pale green grapes, and minute portions of diced melon. An airy bouquet of mint leaves topped each glass.

"What else?" I asked a retainer.

"Chicken a la King," he whispered reverently. "From a silver casserole; hot biscuits; mixed green salad, coffee and mint ice cream."

(Oh, you lucky, lucky bride and groom!)

This is where the blond man asked me what I wanted. And I replied, "nothing; only to watch what's going on!"

Possibly the desire to get me out of the way was what prompted him to suggest that he show me through the rest of this magical place. And away we floated, through corridors, whose walls looked out on the turrets of the older building and on the tennis courts and the budding spring gardens that formed a backdrop for this lovely place.

I saw rooms in which quite obviously the old order had just recently been transformed to the new. In this seemingly austere edifice there were rooms that prospective brides and all honeymooners dream of but rarely find. My own choice for a wedding retreat, a sky-line room hung with canopy yellow drapes and furnished with deep, velvety golden chairs, and a rug the color of a baby's eyes. This room looks out on a spacious square of garden. There are other rooms done in all the glorious pastels of a by-gone era. Cars range from palest cream to the lovely iridescence of a sea-shell. I saw delicate sets of old English china that are fragile as lace, and there the private dining rooms whose colors blend gracefully with any of these.

The blond man showed me through the grounds. The very air here is clean and different. People recuperating from an illness, from any hospital bout would surely benefit from a few weeks spent in this not familiar wonderland.

While we watched two birds make love in the eaves, the door banged and we were locked out. My escort didn't have his keys so we went round the back to enter by the kitchen. The chef, obviously a man with an eye for color, was being aided by his assistants in the preparation of a noon meal. On scrubbed wooden tables lay sizzling pans of assorted meats, fish fillets and au gratin and French fried potatoes. Stuffed red tomatoes vied with the pale green of young lettuce salads and there were diced, golden-brown parsnips, and baked Idaho that dripped butter.

The odor of freshly-baked pastry floated over all. I became hungry as a shark.

"The wish became father to the thought," my escort suggested that I remain for luncheon. By that time I was positively drooling, so I dined with mine host and the charming Miss Harwood, hotel secretary. In a large room whose symmetry and design is startling in its beauty, I ate broiled fresh swordfish, a green salad, and for dessert, the most delicious hot apple pie. Piping hot coffee was poured from individual silver coffee pots by one of a staff of capable waitresses.

Miss Harwood is a much-traveled lady of infinite charm and poise. Both she and the blond man have "cut their teeth" on the rudiments of hotel management.

During luncheon, an excited young naval officer telephoned to say that he had just been married. "Could the management arrange for an impromptu dinner and a bridal suite?" It was then one o'clock. By three p. m. the management had everything in readiness. A private dining-room was set for twelve guests, there was a wedding cake, and the blue and yellow suite was reserved for the couple.

That's the way they do things at the Beaconsfield Hotel, 1731

Beacon st., Brookline. Under the new management of the Sheraton Hotel people, this dignified edifice has lately acquired the spirit of extreme youthfulness. It is being redecorated and promises to be the coming social center for its immediate vicinity.

The Hunt Room in cream and red decor is an ideal corner for young lovers in which to plan a future over cocktails.

The hotel has a garage that houses 300 cars. This, as well as the Beaconsfield's cuisine and general spaciousness is probably responsible for its being the weekly luncheon rendezvous of the Red Cross, Rotary, Lions' and Kiwanis Clubs and the Jr. Chamber of Commerce.

Brookline, Newton, Waban, Auburndale, Belmont, Wellesley and Watertown will benefit from its position as a social center for the young and the mature. And what a place in which to find refuge when the cook goes into war work and the maid gets married!

My blond man is none other than Mr. Kurt A. Smith, the Beaconsfield's resident manager. He has seen service in London, Paris, New York and Washington hotels.

The well-known Mr. Newton L. Smith is the general manager. Hotel Sheraton patrons are familiar with his ability and charm. The Beaconsfield impresses "Alice" as being a dowager with the heart of a young girl. She wears a tweed coat, and a matron's hat, Paris underwear and the filmiest of hose.

The new management is shopping for a Hattie Carnegie suit and a wicked Spring hat for Miss Beaconsfield. Because it is indestructible and part of her charm, the "British tweed coat" will remain to grace the shoulders of this impressive lady.

"Alice" does not advocate impulsive journeyings for any but her own irresponsible self. She does suggest however that when you have the urge and the need to try something new and different, you drop over to the Beaconsfield for luncheon or dinner. It is quite the most interesting place that "Alice" has wandered into in the Boston locality.
